Extradition Of James Ray Granted By British Court

LONDON (AP) — A British court today granted extradition of James Earl Ray, wanted in the United States as the accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The extradition order was granted by Chief Magistrate Frank Milton.

Legal sources said Ray would appeal the decision.

The magistrate granted Ray legal aid to pursue his appeal in a higher court within the required 15-day deadline.

Ray received the magistrate's decision without any outward show of emotion.

He was immediately led from court, still surrounded by a cordon of Scotland Yard detectives, and taken back to his maximum security jail at Wandsworth Prison in south London.

The magistrate, sitting at his bench stacked with law books, addressed Ray directly and told him: "You will be committed to prison to await extradition to the United States."

Milton dealt at some length with the contention of defense attorney Roger Frisby that Ray could not be extradited because the slaying of the civil rights leader, shot in Memphis, Tenn., April 4, was a political offense.

The judge agreed it was common knowledge that King was a controversial figure in the United States. But he refused to accept the defense contention that this alone would make the crime of his assassination a political one.

"To hold so would be to extend the meaning of this case too far," the magistrate said.

The case turned on whether the crime was political or not. Under treaty between Britain and the United States, persons may not be extradited for political reasons.

The U.S. government denied Ray's contention that the killing of King was a political crime.

"There is not a shred of evidence to show that the murder took place to further the ends of a larger enterprise," David Calcutt, a British lawyer representing the U.S. government told London's chief magistrate.

"There is nothing to show that this shooting was done to further the cause of the colored people," Calcutt continued.

"There have been undertones that this might be so, but the evidence before this court points to a lone assassination for private purposes."

Calcutt addressed the court after Ray's British attorney, Roger Frisby, told the magistrate that whoever killed King did not do it on personal grounds but because he disapproved of the type of activity King was conducting.

Frisby made his statement at the second session in the Bow Street Magistrate's Court on the U.S. government's application for Ray's extradition. Ray at the first hearing last week denied that he killed King or even knew him.

Persons accused of political crimes are not subject to extradition under the treaty between Britain and the United States. The United States has also asked for Ray's extradition as an escaped convict from the Missouri State Penitentiary, but if he is returned on that charge only, the extradition treaty

City Crews Turn Down Another Wage Proposal

State Says No To Aid At Sewage Unit

Health Board Head Warns Of Growing Danger In Dispute

The Ohio Health Department did an aboutface overnight and decided today not to send sanitary engineers to East Liverpool to take over operation of the sewage treatment plant—replacing striking employes.

Early Payday Slated Despite City Walkout

Despite a strike that has idled about a third of the city's employes, Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger and Treasurer Bert A. Dawson said today they plan to go ahead with the traditional early payday in advance of the July 4th holiday.

Checks for the last half of June will be distributed Wednesday between 3 and 4:30 p.m. in the office of the two officials. The pay ordinarily would not be disbursed until Friday. Zollinger said the payday will go ahead as planned unless his help is sidetracked from payroll work and onto an analysis of city funds as part of the wage negotiations with employes.

Ben Weber, acting city health commissioner, called upon the state for aid late Monday night after the strikers rejected a slightly modified version of a wage proposal from Council which they had turned down Saturday afternoon.

The Ohio Health Department, which indicated last night it would furnish the operators, advised the city Health Department today it had altered its position.

Charles Huddlestun, superintendent of the sewage plant, said he told the Ohio Health Department by telephone that he "could not guarantee the safe-

Election Planned On School Levies

Plans for a special election on two proposed school levy renewals and a new 7-mill levy for upgrading the education program were approved by the East Liverpool Board of Education Monday night.

Supt. Paul Blair today was to confer with Miss Rebecca Resnick, board of elections director, to determine if the special election could be held Sept. 17 as planned by the board.

THE NEW levy, it was explained, would provide funds needed by the school system to meet minimum requirements established by the Ohio Department of Education and to broaden and improve other areas of need in the school system.

An 11-mill levy for operating funds and a 1-mill levy for repairs and maintenance are scheduled to expire at the end of the current year.

Blair declared the money "is definitely not earmarked for teacher salary increases. It is needed because of increased costs."

"For example, the state has said more guidance counselors are needed by July 1, but it is not said where the money is to come from to pay for this. Equipment costs have gone up as have other labor costs," he stated.

ROBERT HARRIS of Laurie Rd. appeared before the board as an interested citizen to recommend the issues be submitted to an election.

Harris stated, "From discussions of the past several weeks with members of the administration, the board and interested citizens of the school district, the need for additional money for the operating budget of the system has become obvious."

"First", he said, "the two current levies must be renewed. "Second, an additional 7 mills, or approximately $378,000, is needed to maintain the system over the next few years at the new state minimums. Hopefully, this budget will make East Liverpool a better than minimum system.

"Much of this increase is due just to increasing costs of labor and equipment, but a large part is also due to the need for broadened administration and supervision in our system as well as for more teaching aids and equipment to keep our youngsters as well educated as children in other parts of the state.

"Estimated costs for administration, supervision and guidance services are from $59,000 to $78,000. I know from personal experience that more guidance for students is needed for a high school with an enrollment as large as ours. One administrator is not enough—one boys and one girls counselor is not enough.

"East Liverpool students are not getting the quality guidance that is provided most other students in Ohio. Because the counselors are overworked, students some times find only at the time for graduation that they are missing vital subjects needed for graduation, and are required to spend extra time to make up these deficiencies before they can receive their diplomas.

"I know of one case where the student had the equivalent of five years study (he had taken extra academic courses each year) and found at the last minute that he was deficient in gymnastic credit. Counseling is needed for each student."

HARRIS then said he does not believe East Liverpool has this quality of a guidance program. "Of course tied with this is a complete curriculum for the counselor to counsel about. Another $94,000 to $96,000 is required to obtain this.

"A good counseling program should give each student an

Receives Approval On First Reading; Bowen Street Head

An increase in the utility tax for Chester industries and residential areas received first reading Monday night at City Hall during the first session of the newly - elected Council.

The increase will provide funds with which to provide expanded community services, the legislators pointed out.

The second and final reading of the tax - boost ordinance is due during a special session next Monday night at 7:30. The legislation would become effective upon this final approval.

Proposed by Councilman Ken Williams, the tax change will be as follows: Electric - homes, from 2 2-3 to 4 per cent; industries, from 1 to 2 per cent; gas-homes, from 2 to 3 9-10 per cent; industries, from 1 to 2 per cent.

Williams pointed out that the increase will allow industries to help carry more of the load, since several of them now are paying less property taxes than they did several years ago. The property owner thus will not have to absorb all the tax, which would happen if property rates were increased.

The additional revenue would be allotted: Police, $2,500 for increased protection; streets, $2,100, for improvements; City Park Commission, $1,200, for improvements; fire, $1,000 to purchase new hose; street lighting, $400 for better lights on Carolina Ave.; equipment for Five persons, described by Chester police as "hippies," ran off with about $9 worth of food from Charlie's Diner on Carolina Ave. Monday night.

Four bearded men and a girl, barefooted and wearing love beads, entered the restaurant about 9:30 p. m. and ordered chicken dinners and sandwiches. When the food was served the "hippies" ran out of the restaurant and fled in a 1966 convertible.

County Man Among Those On Red Isle

COLUMBIANA — Pfc. Louis A. Kramer, 19, of 642 Fairfield Ave., is among the 214 U.S. servicemen being held on a Soviet island in the Northern Pacific after MIG fighters forced their big DC-8 to land Sunday.

It was just last Thursday that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Kramer, took him to the Greater Pittsburgh Airport to board a plane for McChord Air Base in Seattle, Wash.

The State Department notified the Kramers Monday that the plane had been forced down on a small island in the Kurile chain north of Japan. "They told us the passengers and crew were all right and we would be advised of any new developments," Kramer said. He is county sealer of weights and measures in the county auditor's office.

A 1967 graduate of Columbiana High School, the soldier entered the Army in August, and last month completed communications training at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. He completed a 30-day furlough before leaving for Vietnam. The plane was to have stopped in Japan.

Heaviest Raids Of War

Waves Of American B52 Bombers Pound Targets In North Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers attacked the southernmost part of North Vietnam with the heaviest saturation raids of the war Monday and today.

Wave after wave of America's biggest bombers—75 planes in all flying from bases in Okinawa, Thailand and Guam—unleashed more than four million pounds of explosives on enemy targets just above South Vietnam's border.

Each B52 carried about 54,000 pounds of 500-and 750-pound bombs.

Nine missions of five planes each hit just inside North Vietnam. Another six missions struck the northern half of the demilitarized zone.

Targets Listed

The main targets were North Vietnamese storage areas, caves, bunkers and artillery sites. One aim was to wipe out enemy big guns that have been steadily hammering U.S. combat bases and supply lines just below the eastern flank of the DMZ and firing at allied warships offshore. Another objective was to stem the increasing flow of war materials to enemy troops in South Vietnam.

Such heavy B52 strikes sometimes have signaled a massive American ground sweep. It is most unlikely that American troops plan a sweep into the northern half of the DMZ or above it. But the B52s could be softening up the enemy's artillery to limit their reaction to other U.S. offensives along the frontier.

Supply Areas Hit

U.S. sources said the storage areas—caves and bunkers—supply both North Vietnamese infiltrators headed south and the artillery crews attacking South Vietnam's frontier.

The sources pointed out that enemy artillery some of which has a range of 16 miles, has been harassing the big allied supply bases of Dong Ha and Cua Viet, at the eastern end of the DMZ. Dong Ha is also headquarters of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division and the nerve center for allied combat operations along the DMZ.

Despite 3,656 missions over North Vietnam's southern panhandle by smaller fighter-bombers in June—an average of 122 a day—U.S. intelligence sources say the enemy is pouring more supplies and troops into South Vietnam than ever before.

Marines In Battle

In a day of fighting three miles southeast of the nearly abandoned combat base at Khe Sanh, 157 North Vietnamese were killed, U.S. Marines reported. A Marine company clashed with one enemy force in the area and called in air strikes and artillery. U.S. pilots also found a second enemy group nearby.

With the North Vietnamese forces under heavy air attack, the Marines reported two of their own men killed and 11 wounded.

Deep in the Mekong Delta, 122 miles southwest of Saigon, allied forces reported their third big discovery of stockpiled enemy weapons since Saturday.

A U.S. Army helicopter unit and South Vietnamese irregulars uncovered two recoilles rifles, 130 shells for them, 92 rockets, 122 mortar rounds, 160 pistols, 40 antipersonnel mines, small arms ammunition and 14 boxes of medical supplies.

Second Jet Forced To Fly To Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Northwest Airlines jetliner hijacked over Florida Monday returned from Cuba early today but its 87 passengers remained stranded in Havana.

A federal official at Miami International Airport said the crew told him that a Cuban aviation official said it would be unsafe for the three-engine jet to take off from the short runway with its pessenger.

The official said a charter DC7B four engine plane from Airlift International would go to Cuba later today to return the passengers.

A supervisor at Airlift's flight control, Howard Farrington, said a second section had been ordered at 3 a.m. today but to Varadero, the Cuban city 90 miles east of Havana that is the exit point for thousands of exiles. Two flights a day, paid for by the United States government, bring the exiles from Varadero to Miami.

Minutes later, Havana Radio, monitored in Miami, said the Americans would be flown to Miami from Varadero.

Brown Issues Statement

Board Replies To ELTA, Gets Delegation Support

The East Liverpool board of education Monday night issued a statement to the city Teachers Association concerning a dispute over extra assignments of faculty members, and received a commendation from 24 residents for its development of academic and athletic programs.

Samuel W. Brown, board president, said concerning the dispute with the ELTA, the board recognizes "a situation of concern," but said there is no thought of eliminating the position of athletic director.

The ELTA has contended the teaching assignment and other assignments of Robert McNea, football coach and athletic director, are not equitable with other faculty posts.

Brown said: "The Board of Education recognizes there is a situation of concern, which the administration also recognizes. The administration will continue to meet with the Grievance Committee in order to resolve the concern.

"On May 24, 1968, the East Liverpool Teachers Association negotiations committee in its proposal No. 3 proposed that the members of the ELTA study the extra-curricular pay schedule at their convenience and present to the Board of Education to study at its convenience. On June 5, in another meeting with the negotiations committee, proposal No. 3 was again discussed, and it was agreed that the negotiations committee would receive a breakdown of the percentages for extra - assignment. This was done.

"The Board of Education to date has not received the results of the study made by the ELTA regarding extra - curricular pay schedules.

The positions of intramural directors will be eliminated in the junior and senior high schools for the 1968-1969 school term because of the necessity for a closed lunch hour schedule."

"The assignment of personnel is the responsibility of the administration. The best qualified person will be recommend-

'Poor' Drive Cost Public $1.2 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The six weeks the Poor People's Campaign spent living and demonstrating in the nation's capital cost everyone involved, including the public, at least $1.2 million.

But that sum may fall far short of what the final expense will total a figure that may never be known.

On May 11 when the Southern Christian Leadership Conference planted Resurrection City, the campaign's plywood shanty town, on national park land near the Lincoln Memorial, federal officials said there would be little cost to the government.

But by the time Resurrection City was dismantled and hauled away last week, federal expenses were officially put at $231,684.

The District of Columbia estimated its own expenses from the campaign at about $500,000 not counting police costs during last week's demonstrations.

The SCLC, although tight-lipped about money matters, conceded it spent about $350,000 to operate the campaign. The Washington Star said it cost an

Election Planned On School Levies

Plans for a special election on two proposed school levy renewals and a new 7-mill levy for upgrading the education program were approved by the East Liverpool Board of Education Monday night.

A U.S. Army helicopter unit and South Vietnamese irregulars uncovered two recoilles rifles, 130 shells for them, 92 rockets, 122 mortar rounds, 160 pistols, 40 antipersonnel mines, small arms ammunition and 14 boxes of medical supplies.

Second Jet Forced To Fly To Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Northwest Airlines jetliner hijacked over Florida Monday returned from Cuba early today but its 87 passengers remained stranded in Havana.

A federal official at Miami International Airport said the crew told him that a Cuban aviation official said it would be unsafe for the three-engine jet to take off from the short runway with its pessenger.

The official said a charter DC7B four engine plane from Airlift International would go to Cuba later today to return the passengers.

A supervisor at Airlift's flight control, Howard Farrington, said a second section had been ordered at 3 a.m. today but to Varadero, the Cuban city 90 miles east of Havana that is the exit point for thousands of exiles. Two flights a day, paid for by the United States government, bring the exiles from Varadero to Miami.

Minutes later, Havana Radio, monitored in Miami, said the Americans would be flown to Miami from Varadero.

The federal official said crew

Brown Issues Statement

Board Replies To ELTA, Gets Delegation Support

The East Liverpool board of education Monday night issued a statement to the city Teachers Association concerning a dispute over extra assignments of faculty members, and received a commendation from 24 residents for its development of academic and athletic programs.

Samuel W. Brown, board president, said concerning the dispute with the ELTA, the board recognizes "a situation of concern," but said there is no thought of eliminating the position of athletic director.

The ELTA has contended the teaching assignment and other assignments of Robert McNea, football coach and athletic director, are not equitable with other faculty posts.

Brown said: "The Board of Education recognizes there is a situation of concern, which the administration also recognizes. The administration will continue to meet with the Grievance Committee in order to resolve the concern.

"On May 24, 1968, the East Liverpool Teachers Association negotiations committee in its proposal No. 3 proposed that the members of the ELTA study the extra-curricular pay schedule at their convenience and present to the Board of Education to study at its convenience. On June 5, in another meeting with the negotiations committee, proposal No. 3 was again discussed, and it was agreed that the negotiations committee would receive a breakdown of the percentages for extra - assignment. This was done.

"The Board of Education to date has not received the results of the study made by the ELTA regarding extra - curricular pay schedules.

The positions of intramural directors will be eliminated in the junior and senior high schools for the 1968-1969 school term because of the necessity for a closed lunch hour schedule."

"The assignment of personnel is the responsibility of the administration. The best qualified person will be recommend-

'Poor' Drive Cost Public $1.2 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The six weeks the Poor People's Campaign spent living and demonstrating in the nation's capital cost everyone involved, including the public, at least $1.2 million.

But that sum may fall far short of what the final expense will total a figure that may never be known.

On May 11 when the Southern Christian Leadership Conference planted Resurrection City, the campaign's plywood shanty town, on national park land near the Lincoln Memorial, federal officials said there would be little cost to the government.

But by the time Resurrection City was dismantled and hauled away last week, federal expenses were officially put at $231,684.

The District of Columbia estimated its own expenses from the campaign at about $500,000 not counting police costs during last week's demonstrations.

The SCLC, although tight-lipped about money matters, conceded it spent about $350,000 to operate the campaign. The Washington Star said it cost an

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Americans are becoming more musical. We now have more than 44 million amateur musicians, compared to 20 million in 1950. One in every 4.6 persons plays an instrument. More than twice as many play the piano as the guitar—23.5 million to 11 million. But, alas, the number who can still strum a ukulele has fallen in 10 years from 1.5 million to a half million.

If you have trouble telling boy teen-agers from girl teen-agers, you'd have even more difficulty with oysters. These bivalves are ambisexual—that is, they change sex several times during their lifetime, him this year, her next year, him again another year.

Equal rights are only hearsay to the women of Morocco's mountain tribes. They arise at 4 a.m., to grind grain and work until long after dusk. Their husbands, however, plow in the fields only from 9 a.m., until noon, and then knock off for the day. Despite their long hours of labor, few Moroccan women ever seek divorce. Any other man they married would expect them to work just as hard.

The United States will never really run out of potential space to park its automobiles. One-third of its total land area is still forested.

Campers Will Launch 'Roundup' Wednesday

Plans have been completed for the "Summer Roundup" which will be sponsored Wednesday through Sunday by the Ohio Valley Campers Association.

The event will be held at Whinnery's Landing, Guilford Lake, and will open with registration Wednesday from 5 to 8 p.m., followed by a campfire at 9.

On Thursday, there will be swimming, boating and fishing from 1 to 9 p.m. and another campfire, with various prizes, at 9.

A campfire and movies at 9 p. m. will feature Friday's session.

A horseshoe pitching contest for men and a rolling pin throwing event for women will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday. Another campfire will be featured at 9.

This year's campmaster is Fred Wiegand of East Liverpool. George Deidrick of East Liverpool is program chairman and Leo Ferello campfire chairman.

The campers' association is comprised of groups from Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. It meets the third Tuesday of each month, with membership open to any camper.

The present officers are Ralph L. Widger, president; Ferello, vice president; Mrs. Judy Wellerhause, secretary; Joseph Wellerhause, treasurer; Harold Moore, wagonmaster, and Weigand, scout.

The association is planning two caravans for July — one to Lake Arrowhead and one to North Georgetown.

Moore has left for a month's trailer trip to the state of Washington and Wiegand will serve as acting wagonmaster in his absence.

Seven trailers were in camp, with 18 campers, during a caravan to Westville Lake the weekend of June 22-23.

Humphrey Discusses City Ailments

CLEVELAND (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey went to City Hall Monday night and spent two hours talking about big city problems and listening to others talk of them.

"Every single city in the country has the same problems as Cleveland," Humphrey said. "The only difference is no other city has the same type of community relations where people are all pulling together to help each other."

Here for 24 hours of campaigning which ends Tuesday evening when he returns to Washington Humphrey went directly to City Hall from Burke Lakefront Airport.

Mayor Carl B. Stokes, who announced his support last month for Humphrey's Democratic presidential campaign, flew into Cleveland with the vice president from Minneapolis.

At City hall Humphrey attended a meeting of Stokes' cabinet and leading civic and county officials.

He announced a $100,000 federal grant to be processed immediately in Chicago by the Office of Economic Opportunity to provide additional day care centers here. The centers would be for the children of mothers taking job training programs.

"That's for now and there will be something more for your tomorrow," Humphrey promised.

About 500 persons greeted Humphrey at the airport, some with signs proclaiming support for Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Police Chief Michael J. Blackwell said he had assigned 250 men to be with the vice president during his visit.

About 50 antiwar demonstrators paraded outside City Hall as Humphrey arrived with Stokes. Police lined the sidewalks and ordered the demonstrators to stay across the road from City Hall.

Secret Service men patrolled the corridors of city hall. They were noticeably startled by the noise of fireworks at the ball game in the nearby stadium.

World population during the past year increased by 65 million, and will do the same this year. The fastest - growing area in the world is Latin America.

Rockefeller Urges Strict Gun Controls

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has issued a new call for strict gun-control legislation today as he opened a four-state Western campaign swing.

Flying here from New York, the Republican presidential hopeful issued a statement urging Congress to enact President Johnson's firearms legislation before it adjourns.

"The lives of innocent people are at stake," he declared. "Strong, workable gun-control legislation is urgently needed in the battle to control crime and lessen violence."

Before leaving his home state Monday, Rockefeller distributed a white paper setting forth his plan for a new "good neighbor" policy for the Western Hemisphere.

Among other things, he proposed to establish a small "peacekeeping force" within the Organization of American States OAS, to bring Canada into OAS and to create a Latin-American common market.

Rockefeller, who administered the original "good neighbor" policy for President Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration in the 1940's, contended that in recent years "we have neglected Latin America and our neighbors feel it."

GOLD SOURCES

Gold is very much in the news today, so it is interesting to know that scientists say there are great supplies of gold in the sea — up to 10 billion tons — which have accumulated over millions of years. The trick is in formulating the mining techniques to recover this under water treasure hoard.

Future space travelers, too, may seek gold much as the "49'ers" did in another era. It is thought that the planets Venus, Mercury and Mars have gold deposits similar to those on Earth. We have gold rather evenly distributed through the Earth crust, making it possible for adventurous man to more easily find it. As far back as 40,000 years ago, Paleolithic man probably panned the shiny metal in the rivers in much the same way as it was done in California.

Over the centuries gold has been hammered into coins and drawn into wire to fashion early forms of jewelry. Cultures of every nation have some form of gold antiquity and product to be seen in Museums today. Gold vessels, and gold leaf adorn great Cathedrals and modest Churches alike, and many homes boast gold leaf designs on period furniture.

As a jeweler, I am naturally most aware of the beauty — and the beautiful artifacts — to be derived from gold. I think of it often as I order and handle some of our karat gold jewelry creations. You too, might enjoy looking at these fine pieces, and add to your collection. As an investment in beauty it's hard to beat gold!

Mrs. Mabel Miles will remain as caretaker of the city building at $1,800 a year unless Council must furnish a replacement 10 hours a week. She then would receive $1,300.

Robert Keaton of Carolina Ave. was appointed school crossing guard.

Bowen announced the following trash pickup for the week of July 8: Monday, First Ward; Tuesday, Second Ward; Wednesday, Third Ward; Thursday, Fourth Ward; Friday, Fifth Ward.

He said an entire day will be spent in each ward. Trash must be in containers and no garbage must be included. Hours will be from 8 a.m. until noon and from noon until 3 p.m.

Council voted that only the police cruiser and emergency vehicles will be able to park in front of City Hall.

Purchases made included a tractor with a cutter bar for mowing weeds, $1,100 and a six-ton roller, $800. Hood pointed out that both machines were "second - hand."

Pete Arner was given permission to break the curb at the site of his business establishment for improvements. A "stop" sign will be erected at the City Park exit.

Two - hour parking limits on streets in the area of the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co. will be enforced, Mayor Harold Ash said. A tow-away zone, the area will see no exceptions in the violation of the city parking ordinance.

The Street Committee was instructed to investigate an offer made by the T. K. Roofing Co. that it will supply materials for repair of the street from Pan Ave. at 11th St. to the plant if the city will provide manpower and equipment.

Unauthorized personnel riding in the police cruiser was forbidden. The cruiser may not leave city limits unless on police business, the council decided.

Larry Louden of the Monongahela Power Co. will be contacted about moving a street light to Pan Ave. from the block between 8th and 9th Sts., where four are now in use, Williams said.

The combination on the vault in City Hall will be changed and given only to the mayor, chief of police, water clerk and city clerk.

Hood was instructed to write a letter to the Chester Ministerial Association inviting members to attend and assist in the opening exercises at meetings.

In a final report of the former Council, it was noted that during his two - year term Mayor Burt Ward returned to the city $6,988.35 in fines.

Mayor Ash said there's going to be a "clampdown" on all residents who have out-of-state driving licenses. The length of time a new resident has to change the licenses is 30 days, Ash said.

Along the same lines, Hood said several hundred residents have failed to purchase business and drivers' licenses. The clerk's office will be open today and Wednesday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. He noted that the deadline was Monday and violators could be fined $25 and costs.

Mayor Ash appointed the following committees: Streets, Bowen, chairman, William Tuttle and Charles Mansfield; ordinance, Williams, chairman, Mansfield and Bowen; finance, Mansfield, chairman, Bowen and Richard Johnson; building, Johnson, chairman, Williams and Tuttle; fire, Tuttle, chairman, Johnson and Williams, and sanitary board, Ash, chairman, Bowen, Williams and Mansfield.

Since Bowen resigned his post, his place on the committees probably will be filled by his replacement, who will be chosen during the special meeting Monday at 7:30 p. m. Applicants may file for the position until the meeting.

'Murf' Held Without Bond

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Beachboy Jack "Murf the Surf" Murphy and cohort Jack Griffith were denied bond Monday after a brunette said she saw them in a boat with two girls who were later found murdered.

Solution To The War?

While the war rages on in Vietnam, comparatively little is heard about neighboring Laos. And yet this nation, which is neighbor to both North and South Vietnam, could hold the key to bringing the Vietnam War to an end.

It would take willingness and some courage on the part of other nations of the world, and everything would have to be done just right, but the possibility exists if the will does.

As far back as February of 1961, the Laotian government reiterated its policy of neutrality in these words:

"WE . . . PROCLAIM once more the policy of true neutrality that Laos has always sought to follow. Laos will not join in any military alliance . . . Laos will not have on its territory either foreign forces or military bases."

The government's inability to make this stick is a major reason why the Vietnam War has been able to continue. For it is a well-proven fact that a major part of the men and supplies from North Vietnam reach the battlefields of South Vietnam via the Laotian Trail and its branches.

The United States, in honoring the Laotian neutrality, finds itself in an almost indefensible position as it attempts to fight a defensive war.

Now Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos has called for the withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from his country as a key to an effective cease-fire in Vietnam.

The prince, in Paris on a private visit, has a world forum for his remarks. But he must go further than just asking the North Vietnamese to leave. They have ignored such requests before.

Laos should ask the United Nations, of which it is a member, to send a force to guarantee the borders of Laos so that it could maintain its neutrality. If this were done, North Vietnam undoubtedly would have to sue for peace or at least abandon its aggression.

It seems almost too simple a solution to the war but it is logical and desirable.

Unfortunately, outside of its effort in Korea, the United Nations has been relatively impotent in bringing or maintaining peace throughout the world.

WITH THE OPENING given by Prince Souvanna Phouma, some nation or nations should see to it that his request is presented to the world body.

Russia could veto the proposal but she would be exposed before the world even more as the power behind the aggressions of North Vietnam.

And how could she, in good conscience, refuse the request of a neutral nation to have aggressors removed from its soil?

This seems a golden opportunity for the United Nations. Will anybody do anything about it?

Back To Work

It becomes increasingly difficult to understand the reluctance of striking city employes to accept the proposed wage boost offered by Council, in view of the well-squeezed municipal treasury and its income outlook.

The growing health problem in connection with accumulated garbage, the discharge of sewage into the Ohio River to by-pass the idle treatment plant, and closing of the landfill operation wins no support or sympathy for the strikers.

The slim margin by which the members of the union spurned the latest offer by the city administration testifies to the uncertainty of their cause.

Sincere consideration of the claims of the strikers by Council, the financial plight of the city and the health interests of the general public have carried the current wage dispute about as far as it can go in good faith. It is now time to get back to the job, for a health and safety crisis can gain little for the workers and certainly nothing for the community.

Special Police Agency Needed

Frequently heard in the aftermath of the assassinations of Sen. Robert Kennedy and Rev. Martin Luther King are calls for better enforcement of laws against crime.

Possibly because of this, the Ohio Crime Commission has asked for the establishment of a special statewide police agency.

In an interim report submitted to Gov. James A. Rhodes, the commission said such an agency could coordinate attacks on organized crime by acting as an intelligence unit for all law enforcement agencies in the state.

The increased violence and crime in our cities, state and nation is deplorable. To fail to take adequate steps to meet the situation would be even more deplorable.

In this day and time, when sophisticated crime techniques, equipment and devices are continually displayed in the TV serials, it would seem that actual enforcement and investigative agencies should have well-trained personnel and up-to-date equipment available for their fight against crime, and the protection of citizens.

If the crime commission believes a new police agency is the answer to this growing crime situation, we are in favor of its creation. Some thing has to be done!

The Curfew

New efforts by city police to enforce the juvenile curfew regulation come as welcome news to those genuinely concerned about the behavior patterns of some of our young people.

Many girls and boys are aware of the responsibility of proper conduct, but the evidence on our streets and the citations for beer drinking and fireworks law violations over the weekend show there are a number who aren't.

The hours set for the teen-agers are less for the peace and tranquility of each neighborhood than for the protection of the young people themselves. Parents themselves should be enforcing these restrictions, but if they don't, the police are completely justified in doing so.

Rumor Mills Are Grinding Again

The rumor mills are grinding away again, pouring out more and more of their product to confuse and mislead the world.

From Paris comes persistent talk that the Viet Cong are fearful North Vietnam might sell them out at the peace talks. Previously there had been rumors that the South Vietnamese were fearful the United States might sell them out.

ONE INTERPRETATION of the "signals" is that Red China is back of it all. The theory is that China, greatly displeased with Hanoi for entering into the peace talks in the first place, is feeding the Viet Cong dissatisfaction and worry.

China also seems to be venting its wrath on North Vietnam in other ways. The latter country's ambassador to Peking, a moderate who favors negotiations, was reported to be leaving the Chinese capital — under pressure.

An explanation given for China's behavior is that it wants to use Vietnam as the battlefield in the final war against the United States and consequently insists that North Vietnam should carry on the war until it defeats the "paper tiger."

HOW MUCH of the products of the rumor mill are fact and how much are fiction, mischievously ground in, the nonCommunist world can only guess at — on the basis of what proved facts it has available.

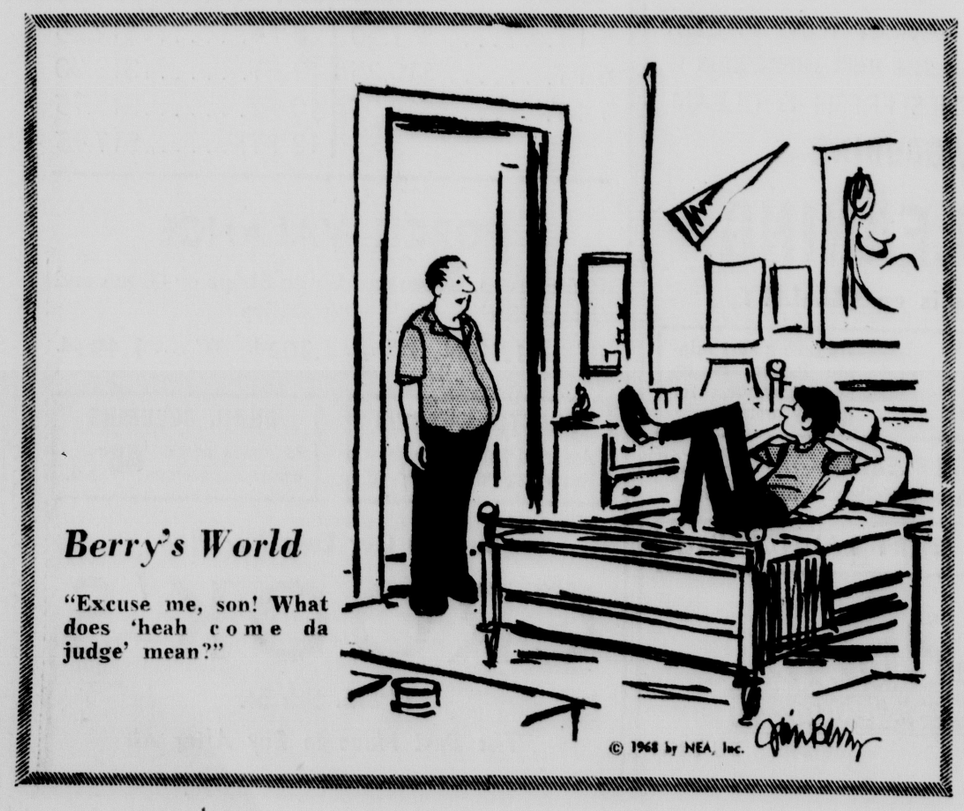

We can hope, however, that the "signals" are substantilly fact and that there is growing dissension between the Red Chinese, the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong.

John Eiferd

The death of John Eiferd, colorful, outspoken founder of the Golden Star Dairy, reminds us of the passing of the era of "rugged individualism", a phrase which many young people may not recognize as a cliche of yesteryear.

John Eiferd's was a many-faceted personality, whose energy and drive put him in many pursuits before he undertook the dairy operation which became one of this district's leading firms.

A hard-headed businessman, John was generous to any good causes, especially to churches; he was gruff but blessed with a sense of humor; he believed in seizing an opportunity and the value of a hard day's work, simple fundamentals which have become obscured by necessary complexes of the late 20th Century, but nevertheless basic principles of American existence.

'Now If I Can Just Find A Hat To Pull This Out Of!'

A Student At Dinner

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I hadn't realized the extent of "student power" in this country until I had dinner at a friend's house the other night. Among the guests seated at the table were a well-known TV newscaster, the head of a congressional committee, a syndicated columnist and the editor of a national magazine.

Art Buchwald

An added starter was the 19-year-old son of one of the guests, who had just finished his freshman year at Amherst. We shall call him Stephen. Although it went against protocol, the hosetess insisted that Steven sit on the right.

As Stephen was cutting his meat we all watched him nervously, hoping some pearls would drop out of his mouth. But when he didn't say anything, the congressman jumped in.

"Tell me, Stephen," he said, "what do your friends think about the negative income tax?"

Stephen looked up in surprise. "I haven't heard them discuss it, though I imagine they're for it."

"WELL TUT," the congressman said.

"Let me ask you this, Stephen," the syndicated columnist said. "Does your generation believe the present revolutionary forces now at work throughout the world can produce a viable solution to the problems of pestilence, famine and leisure?"

"I don't think you can generalize about student revolutions," Stephen replied.

The columnist wrote this down in a small notebook.

"Stephen," the TV commentator said. "If we grant you that 'The Graduate' was a condemnation of our materialistic bourgeois society, would you grant us that there are some good things in 'Gone With the Wind'?"

"I THINK there is some good in all movies," Stephen said. "As a matter of fact, many of my friends enjoyed 'Gone With the Wind.' "

The editor then asked Stephen, "How do we get out of Vietnam?"

Stephen said, "You just get out. It's that simple."

The congressman shook his head in amazement. "That could be the solution. It just could."

We were eating our salad and Stephen muttered something.

Everyone looked up. "What did he say? What did he say"

"He said, 'Please pass the salt.' "

"Boy," said the columnist, "these kids really are bright these days."

"Our generation never asked anyone to pass the salt," the TV commentator said.

"We didn't have the guts," the congressman said. "When the kids today want salt, they ask for it. That's 'student power.' "

Everyone passed Stephen the salt.

Some started discussing the elections in France.

"Maybe Stephen doesn't want to talk about the elections in France," the magazine editor said.

"I don't really care one way or another," Stephen said.

"Well, how do you feel about the elections, Stephen"

"I guess they went okay, considering."

"Tell us about pot," someone begged.

"I KNOW KIDS who have smoked it," Stephen said.

"What did I tell you" the columnist said. "He even knows about pot."

"I'd prefer to hear Stephen's views on the elections," the editor said.

"Why don't we wait until the men go into the library for coffee and cigars"

"Not on your life," one of the women said. "We're just as interested to hear what Stephen has to say about politics as the men are. After all, you don't get a student to come to dinner every night."

Ecumenical Uppsala

World Council Calls Gathering

The World Council of Churches is calling its gathering at Uppsala, Sweden, for much of the month of July "the most widely representative meeting in the history of the ecumenical movement." A comparison is made to the Second Vatican Council.

Both meetings are at the world level. Both represent some 300 million Christians. But Vatican II was an authoritative council for one world church. The Fourth Assembly of the world council will embrace 232 churches from 90 countries and will, in a sense, legislate for them. The assembly's authority depends on the influence it carries with its member churches.

Aside from authority, there are differences in style. The Vatican council assembled 3,000 bishops of one church over a period of four years. The assembly will host 800 representatives of its member churches for less than three weeks, beginning Thursday.

THE ASSEMBLY takes on secular aspects as well. Lord Caradon, Britain's permanent representative to the United Nations, and James Baldwin, the American Negro novelist, will participate in a discussion of "White Racism or World Community" scheduled Sunday.

The world council was founded at Amsterdam in 1948, so this year's assembly will represent, in part, a 20th anniversary observance. The Second Assembly was held in Evanston in 1954, and the third in New Delhi in 1961. Sweden was chosen for the 20th anniversary because it seemed appropriate to return to the scene of one of the earliest ecumenical gatherings, the 1925 Life and Work Conference in Stockholm. That gathering was organized by Archbishop Nathan Soderblom, whose see was in Uppsala.

Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., the assassinated civil rights leader, was to have given the opening sermon at Uppsala. Instead, Rev. D. T. Niles of Ceylon, a Methodist who spoke at the first WCC assembly 20 years ago, will preach Thursday on the assembly theme: "Behold, I Make All Things New." Other assembly speakers will include President Kenneth Kaunda of the Republic of Zambia and the British economist Barbara Ward (Lady Jackson).

Most major Protestant, Eastern Orthodox and Anglican churches in the United States belong to the WCC. Delegates will come as well from Asia, Africa, Europe, Latin America and Australia.

THE WCC has been conducting a continuing dialogue with Marxists to further "peace and progress for all mankind." The activism of the world council has raised the question of whether Christian churches are venturing too far into secular affairs. Many religious leaders would retort that as society changes, the church too much change.

The Roman Catholic Church, deeply conservative at the time the world council was founded, is now committed to ecumenism. The Vatican is not ready to accept the council's longstanding invitation to membership. But Rev. Roberto Tucci, editor of the Roman La Civilta Cattolica, who participated in the writing of Schema 13 on the Church in the Modern World at Vatican II, will speak at Uppsala.

And WCC'S New York headquarters has said Rome will send 15 Catholic "delegated observers" who may speak but not vote.

Odd Facts

Although agriculture is the chief industry of Egypt, engaging more than half of its population, only about 3.5 per cent of the total area of the country is capable of producing crops.

The sausage is a food of great antiquity. The oldest known cookbook, dated about A.D. 228, speaks of sausages. And they were eaten several hundred years before the birth of Christ.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Moral Force

Twice in this century peoples have wishfully persuaded themselves that big wars were far distant and that they would somehow be prevented. But World War I and World War II came anyway, and their tragic consequences have never been erased.

Friction and conflicts are again emerging in Central Europe, as well as in Southeast Asia and the Middle East. The peoples of the world, however, are once more not fully aware of the dangers that confront them.

It is apparent that the negotiations in Paris on the Vietnam War are not succeeding. Diplomacy requires much versatility, but this does not necessarily assure a successful result.

JUST SEVEN YEARS before World War II broke out, a keen observer of world affairs wrote a salient truth, as he said:

"The successful issue of diplomatic negotiations and the peace and welfare of vast nations often hang upon the finding of just the right formula, in words, which will smooth down the ruffled feathers and bristling hair, and draw back into their sheaths the outflung claws, talons, beaks, fangs, of all the 'human' eagles, bears and lions concerned."

There is an acute need today not merely for dedicated conciliators but for the mobilization of the moral forces of mankind. Never before small, possessed such an opportunity to appeal to humanity.

President Johnson could, for example, urge the leaders of the principal religions of the world to meet in Paris and there unit in a prayerful search for peace in Vietnam. This would make a profound impression everywhere.

Internal peace is directly related to economic conditions. As they grow worse, a feeling is created that military force is the only way to acquire benefits for the individual.

What could be offered, therefore, which would promise a brighter future than a united Vietnam rehabilitated on a strong economic foundation? The whole world would stand ready to furnish the material means of providing a better life for the 16,000,000 South Vietnamese and the 19,000,000 North Vietnamese.

Spiritual leaders of Europe, Asia, Africa and the Americas, dedicated to the concept of brotherhood as revealed in the teachings of all religions, could open up the way to a worldwide demand for a fair and honorable peace.

Bhagavan Das, the noted Hindu scholar, in his book entitled "The Essential Unity of All Religions," made this significant comment nearly four decades ago:

"It is common knowledge that Asiatic thought is eminently colored by religion; as modern European thought is by science.

All the great living religions are of Asiatic origin; also almost all the historical great dead religions.

The personal, domestic, and social life of the Hindu is largely governed by the rules of what he regards as his religion. So is that of the Musalman. So of the Jew. So of the Confucian. So was, and to a considerable extent still is, that of the Christian belonging to the Roman Catholic form of Christianity.

Such also is the case with the followers of the other forms and reforms of the Vedic religion, known as the Zoroastrian, the Buddkist, the Jaina, the Sikh, though perhaps the element of ritual is less prominent, and that of ethics more, and the later of these, in accordance with the very principle of reform."

The truth is the individual religions of the world are not utilizing effectively today their great power to inspire an honorable means of achieving and maintaining peace in the world.

THE "GOLDEN RULE" and the basic laws of a well-ordered society had their origins in scriptures written some 10,000 years ago — indeed, more than 80 centuries before the birth of Christ.

The intervening centuries have contributed a most remarkable influx of religious thought and aspirations in many countires far distant from each other. Yet, though all these years, the basic precepts, derived in the western world from the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount, have too often been ignored.

If only the religious leaders of the various nations of the earth would petition their governments to enter negotiations for world peace and solemnly proclaim obedience to the universal mandate—"thou shalt not kill"—there truly would be less and less fear that the frictions and quarrels of today would evolve into another world war.

Solution To The War?

While the war rages on in Vietnam, comparatively little is heard about neighboring Laos. And yet this nation, which is neighbor to both North and South Vietnam, could hold the key to bringing the Vietnam War to an end.

It would take willingness and some courage on the part of other nations of the world, and everything would have to be done just right, but the possibility exists if the will does.

As far back as February of 1961, the Laotian government reiterated its policy of neutrality in these words:

"WE . . . PROCLAIM once more the policy of true neutrality that Laos has always sought to follow. Laos will not join in any military alliance . . . Laos will not have on its territory either foreign forces or military bases."

The government's inability to make this stick is a major reason why the Vietnam War has been able to continue. For it is a well-proven fact that a major part of the men and supplies from North Vietnam reach the battlefields of South Vietnam via the Laotian Trail and its branches.

The United States, in honoring the Laotian neutrality, finds itself in an almost indefensible position as it attempts to fight a defensive war.

Now Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos has called for the withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from his country as a key to an effective cease-fire in Vietnam.

The prince, in Paris on a private visit, has a world forum for his remarks. But he must go further than just asking the North Vietnamese to leave. They have ignored such requests before.

Laos should ask the United Nations, of which it is a member, to send a force to guarantee the borders of Laos so that it could maintain its neutrality. If this were done, North Vietnam undoubtedly would have to sue for peace or at least abandon its aggression.

It seems almost too simple a solution to the war but it is logical and desirable.

Unfortunately, outside of its effort in Korea, the United Nations has been relatively impotent in bringing or maintaining peace throughout the world.

WITH THE OPENING given by Prince Souvanna Phouma, some nation or nations should see to it that his request is presented to the world body.

Russia could veto the proposal but she would be exposed before the world even more as the power behind the aggressions of North Vietnam.

And how could she, in good conscience, refuse the request of a neutral nation to have aggressors removed from its soil?

This seems a golden opportunity for the United Nations. Will anybody do anything about it?

Back To Work

It becomes increasingly difficult to understand the reluctance of striking city employes to accept the proposed wage boost offered by Council, in view of the well-squeezed municipal treasury and its income outlook.

The growing health problem in connection with accumulated garbage, the discharge of sewage into the Ohio River to by-pass the idle treatment plant, and closing of the landfill operation wins no support or sympathy for the strikers.

The slim margin by which the members of the union spurned the latest offer by the city administration testifies to the uncertainty of their cause.

Sincere consideration of the claims of the strikers by Council, the financial plight of the city and the health interests of the general public have carried the current wage dispute about as far as it can go in good faith. It is now time to get back to the job, for a health and safety crisis can gain little for the workers and certainly nothing for the community.

Special Police Agency Needed

Frequently heard in the aftermath of the assassinations of Sen. Robert Kennedy and Rev. Martin Luther King are calls for better enforcement of laws against crime.

Possibly because of this, the Ohio Crime Commission has asked for the establishment of a special statewide police agency.

In an interim report submitted to Gov. James A. Rhodes, the commission said such an agency could coordinate attacks on organized crime by acting as an intelligence unit for all law enforcement agencies in the state.

The increased violence and crime in our cities, state and nation is deplorable. To fail to take adequate steps to meet the situation would be even more deplorable.

In this day and time, when sophisticated crime techniques, equipment and devices are continually displayed in the TV serials, it would seem that actual enforcement and investigative agencies should have well-trained personnel and up-to-date equipment available for their fight against crime, and the protection of citizens.

If the crime commission believes a new police agency is the answer to this growing crime situation, we are in favor of its creation. Something has to be done!

The Curfew

New efforts by city police to enforce the juvenile curfew regulation come as welcome news to those genuinely concerned about the behavior patterns of some of our young people.

Many girls and boys are aware of the responsibility of proper conduct, but the evidence on our streets and the citations for beer drinking and fireworks law violations over the weekend show there are a number who aren't.

The hours set for the teen-agers are less for the peace and tranquility of each neighborhood than for the protection of the young people themselves. Parents themselves should be enforcing these restrictions, but if they don't, the police are completely justified in doing so.

Rumor Mills Are Grinding Again

The rumor mills are grinding away again, pouring out more and more of their product to confuse and mislead the world.

From Paris comes persistent talk that the Viet Cong are fearful North Vietnam might sell them out at the peace talks. Previously there had been rumors that the South Vietnamese were fearful the United States might sell them out.

ONE INTERPRETATION of the "signals" is that Red China is back of it all. The theory is that China, greatly displeased with Hanoi for entering into the peace talks in the first place, is feeding the Viet Cong dissatisfaction and worry.

China also seems to be venting its wrath on North Vietnam in other ways. The latter country's ambassador to Peking, a moderate who favors negotiations, was reported to be leaving the Chinese capital — under pressure.

An explanation given for China's behavior is that it wants to use Vietnam as the battlefield in the final war against the United States and consequently insists that North Vietnam should carry on the war until it defeats the "paper tiger."

HOW MUCH of the products of the rumor mill are fact and how much are fiction, mischievously ground in, the nonCommunist world can only guess at — on the basis of what proved facts it has available.

We can hope, however, that the "signals" are substantilly fact and that there is growing dissension between the Red Chinese, the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong.

John Eiferd

The death of John Eiferd, colorful, outspoken founder of the Golden Star Dairy, reminds us of the passing of the era of "rugged individualism", a phrase which many young people may not recognize as a cliche of yesteryear.

John Eiferd's was a many-faceted personality, whose energy and drive put him in many pursuits before he undertook the dairy operation which became one of this district's leading firms.

Supt. Cashdollar was to visit the West Point area today to determine if facilities in a church or some other building can be obtained.

It was announced the state had approved plans for purchase of four new buses, and two are to be delivered in a month.

The next meeting will be Aug 5.

A wild cherry tree, approximately four feet in diameter, located on the property of Edward Collins of 721 Campbell Rd. was splintered by a bolt of lightning during the thunderstorm which hit the area Monday night, Collins reported.

Fragments of the massive trunk were strewn over a one-acre area, Collins said. The trunck was completely severed from the roots and branches nearly a fool in diameter were snapped from the body of the tree, he said.

One panel window of a picture window ensemble was shattered, a hole punctured into the siding of the house and a telephone wire clipped in half by the flying debris, he added.

Driver Hospitalized In Hancock Accident

Leroy Wright, 24, of Congo Rd., Newell, remained "fair" today at City Hospital from injuries received in a two - car collision Sunday night at Route 8 and Locust Hill Rd., near Chester.

Wright suffered contusions of the chest. He was cited by Hancock County sheriff's deputies for not having an operator's license and for driving left of center.

Deputies said Wright was making a left turn off Route 8 onto the Locust Hill Rd. and did not see an oncoming vehicle causing the collision.

The other vehicle was driven by Louis Mecaro, 36, of Cove Station, Weirton. Mecaro received lacerations of the head. Damage to his car was estimated at $1,000.

Three passengers in the Wright car were treated for injuries at City Hospital.

Students Ask Reopening Of City's Streets

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A crowd of 1,000 on the University of California campus, acting after three days of disorders, voted Monday night to confront the City Council with demands to reopen the streets.

Before a curfew went into effect, leaders of the Young Socialist Alliance and the Peace and Freedom party told the milling throng that a demand should be made for a city permit for a Fourth of July political rally on Telegraph Avenue near the campus.

Other demands, said spokesman Peter Camejo, will be for suspension of the curfew and for a civilian board to review actions of Berkeley police.

The crowd shouted assent.

Later, the campus and Berkeley streets were cleared by officers enforcing the 8 p.m. curfew which was first invoked last Friday night after police broke up a rally at which speakers criticized "De Gaulle government actions against French students."

Officers marched shoulder to shoulder clearing the area the fourth straight night.

At the university, Chancellor Roger W. Heyns said a permit recently granted to the Peace and Freedom party to hold a rally at noon today on the Sproul Hall steps would be honored.

Heyns said only four students have been among the 86 arrested since disturbances broke out Friday night and that no students were among the dissident leadership.

Budget Lists Tax Hike In West Beaver

The board of directors of Western Beaver Schools gave final approval Monday night of the 1968-69 budget and hired three teachers.

The new budget of $1,431,737 calls for an increase in the real estate tax from 35 mills to 45 mills.

The board announced the $12 per capita tax and the 1 per cent wage tax will remain the same for the coming year.

Teachers hired were Mrs. Nancy Schnars of Aliquippa and Richard Franz of Ellwood City, both as elementary teachers, and Miss Laura Beecher of Beaver as elementary and secondary art teacher.

Resignations were accepted from William Osman, elementary instructor, Richard Shingler, commercial teacher, and Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell Gailey and Mrs. Olive Hammond, cafeteria workers.

The board adopted a resolution to request the Beaver County Commissioners to sponsor the Beaver County Community College. This was a response to a request by the college.

The band will take part in a Festival of Bands at Beaver Sept. 21.

David E. Williams, manager of the Beaver Branch of the Western Pennsylvania National Bank, was re-elected school district treasurer.

Supt. Frank A. Meredith announced teaching positions still unfilled include three elementary posts, a social study job, a commercial job and one Latin-English post.

Bills paid totaled $88,540. The next meeting will be Aug. 5.

Arraignment Planned For 3 Fugitives

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Three Pennsylvania men are scheduled for arraignment Wednesday on a total of 24 charges, all resulting from a chase and capture that ended with police firing tear gas into a house.

The three, plus another Pennsylvanian, also are wanted in Pennsylvania on charges of bank robbery.

Paul Forrest, 25, of West Chester, Edward J. Kern, 59, and William E. Ziefel Jr., 26, both of Pittsburgh are scheduled to appear in Girard Municipal Court in Trumbull County.

The three, along with Wallace Mitchell, 26, of Valencia, Pa., are held in Youngstown City jail.

Youngstown's Chief of Detectives, Capt. Michael P. Carney, said Kern shouted threats to police. Carney said Kern had bragged during questioning of a plot to kill 10 Pennsylvania State Policemen and two FBI agents to avenge his imprisonment.

Carney called the plot a "Sketchy outline" that gave no named or places and said Kern was "Talking generally."

Besides the bank robbery charge, the FBI is considering additional charges. Youngstown police have filed no charges against the four, who are being held pending possible extradition to Pennsylvania.

Brown Issues Statement

Board Replies To ELTA, Gets Delegation Support

ed to the board for appointment. The position of athletic director has existed for many years, and has been held here by coaching and non - coaching faculty members. No preferential treatment has been shown and it is not contemplated that the position of athletic director will be eliminated."

"The board of education will take under advisement any situation that is presented through the proper channels."

FURTHER comments Brown made concerning these statements were that a grievance is a violation of a negotiated agreement. "This, as presented to the board, is, therefore, not a grievance — but a demand. The board is willing to talk to the official representatives of the ELTA — but the law does not permit the board to delegate its powers and duties. The board of education and the administration will not abrogate their authority to any organization.

"The board and administration are willing to discuss problems in an ethical manner, then if no agreement is reached, we follow the proper negotiations procedures.

"In The East Liverpool Review, Thursday, June 27, under the heading, "ELTA Board Spurns Bid to Abolish Intramurals," may I refer to page 10 column 5, where I quote: "Supt. Paul Blair has proposed the intramural sports program be abolished so as to restore one period of teaching for McNea." This sounds like an offer to appease, and this is not the intention — intramurals were to be closed for the next school term because of the necessity for a closed lunch hour schedule. The board cannot intervene in personal feuds. It is an infringement on the administration's rights and duties when asking for elimination of postions."

FOLLOWING this statement, Brown said that he had done some research concerning the position of athletic director in other schools. In the "Big 8" he said he found that in one school which operated on a 6-period school day, the athletic director had three study halls, two periods for athletic director, and one open. "He receives an extra salary of $1,000 for this."

At another school, Brown reported there is a full - time athletic director who receives a salary of $15,000. "Still another director has an 8-period day—three physical education classes, three designated for athletic director work, one for coaching, and one unassigned, and receives an extra $1,500 for the athletic director position."

"Another divides his periods three classes, three for athletic director two unassigned, and receives $1,500. Over the state of Ohio, a report published by the Ohio High School Athletic Directors Association, says that the average over the state paid for athletic directors is $655.96. This goes from 0-$5,040.

"It goes anywhere from no time allotted per day to a full day, and says that sports included average 6, starting with three an running as high as 13.

BROWN SAID these figures are facts, and feels that the amount being paid the athletic director of East Liverpool is certainly reasonable, as shown by these other figures.

The commendation for the board came from a delegation whose spokesman was Robert Bartram of Olnhausen St.

He said, "We as citizens of East Liverpool, have elected you folks to your office, and there are times when you need support. We are here to give you support.

"Academically, we have a good school. I have a son who graduated from East Liverpool this year, and he was in the top 10. We feel the academic program puts East Liverpool 'on top of the heap.' Our new buildings say a lot for what this board has done."

"Athletiely, we have a fine program. Patterson Field is one of the best. The coaching staff is excellent. We can't fathom why anyone would want to criticize the football staff. We want to thank you for all that you have done and are doing."

Board member Harry McConville thanked the group for its statement. He told them they "are the backbone of the system; you support the sports program. It is not often people like you will stand up and be counted."

Brown said he appreciated the group taking time on such a warm night to come to the meeting. "It's not often someone will offer a rose like his. Usually it is something that smells a little different. The board will do what it feels is best," Brown stated, "because we were elected to represent the people."

Bartram then added, "No other school will say they have a Coach McNea. Not many schools are in the top ten. Our program is one of the best."

BROWN said that 62 boys names were signed to a petition saying that the schools have a good program and hope it will continue along the same way.

William Blair, board member, said he feels good athletic teams usually are backed up by a good educational program. He also thanked the group for coming to the meeting.

Supt. Paul Blair said the administrators job is not a bed of roses. "I don't know anyone who works any harder than I do for the school system. I will continue to do so.

"We have a responsibility to the citizens of the community. We are going to have a better school system than in the past.

For four years we have been involved in his building program, along with regular duties.

"It is good to know someone is on the superintendent's side. A week ago I felt no one was. As long as I am here, I will dedicate my time to the community and citizens to continue to provide the best education possible. We are headed for the finest program in the state.

"Our physical facilities will be the best in Ohio when we open the doors in the fall. The people will be proud whether they admit it or not. I am proud to be superintendent and hope to continue that way."

Cumberland Sets Paving Program For Enon Areas

NEW CUMBERLAND—A contract for $35,000 to repair streets in Enon Valley, was awarded the Tri-State Asphalt Co. during a meeting of New Cumberland City Council Monday night.

Mayor Arthur Watson called the improvement project the most ambitious street paving project Council has undertaken in the last eight to ten years.

The contract, financed by the Citizens Bank of Weirton, calls for the permanent paving and curbing of the streets in Enon Valley.

Second reading was given to a resolution for permanent improvement of 2nd Ave. from Smith St. to a point about 300 yards south. Third and final reading will be held July 9 in a public meeting when residents of 2nd Ave. may express their opinions.

Feltner's wife, Juanita, told police he and their two sons were wading when the three stepped into deep water. She said he pushed the two boys to shallow water and disappeared.

ty" of any men it sent here to operate the plant. He said he pointed out there was a strike in progress, involving the plant's workers, and that the state's engineers would have to cross a picket line in order to take over the operation.

Huddlestun said he also pointed out there is a city ordinance that bans the importation of workers to take over the jobs of persons who are on strike.

Street and incinerator department services also have been halted by the strike, which went into full effect Friday. However, the water department pumping and filtration plants were operating normally with crews which the union allowed to report to work.

"THE HEALTH of the community is being jeopardized," Council was told last night by Dr. J. Keith Rugh, chairman of the Health Board, after the new negotiations collapsed. He said the fact garbage collections have been interrupted since Wednesday is a serious health threat.

Mayor George E. Willshaw said he believes the state officials due today may offer some suggestions for at least temporary resumption of refuse services.

The round of conferences and negotiations went on until nearly 11 last night. As the meetings concluded, Council agreed tentatively to meet again Wednesday night at 7 with the workers, who are represented by Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

WEBER WAS called into conference with Council in Willshaw's office after the union had announced rejection of the latest offer.

"The State Health Department told me this afternoon if this was not settled tonight it would send in its engineers tomorrow at 9 a. m. to operate the (sewage) plant," Weber said. "The department also reminded me that the city is subject to a fine of $500 a day for dumping untreated sewage into the Ohio River."

The city contends that the treatment plant has not operated normally since about 3:15 a.m. Saturday. Huddlestun said a plant worker reported Friday midnight after Council and the union negotiated and the union indicated it would allow the water and sewage plants to be manned at least over the weekend until the talks resumed.

Huddlestun said the lone employe went home at 3:15, after working about three hours. Huddlestun said he has been the only worker on duty at the plant since.

He said he had no alternative except to set up the bypass system and allow sewage to flow into the river without being treated. The bypass system usually is utilized only when there is a heavy rainstorm and water pours into the plant in such volume that it cannot be processed.

WEBER ALSO pointed out to Council that the city's landfill garbage and trash dump was closed at mid-afternoon Monday on orders of the County Health Department because there was no bulldozer operator present to cover the refuse daily, as a new state law requires.

This gave new emphasis to the garbage collection problem, as private haulers and some citizens had been hauling refuse to the big Madison Township site. There also were some reports that pickets were halting drivers of cars and trucks who attempted to pull onto the dump site on the Y. & O. Rd.

Incinerator Supt. John Melvin reminded householders not to put their refuse outside for collection, as it will only become soggy in the frequent rains.

Weber said the Ohio Health Department instructed him today to post placards along the Ohio River shore downstream from the sewage plant's outlet warning that the waters are "unsafe for recreational use" because of the raw sewage being dumped into the stream.

The signs will be posted as soon as they can be printed, Weber said. He pointed out the city pumps about two million gallons of water daily and most of it reenters the river through the sewage plant, along with liquid and solid wastes.

Although the Ohio Health Department decided not to send in plant operators, it will dispatch at least one representative to confer with municipal officials on the health hazards posed by the sewage treatment and garbage collection crisis, the mayor said. Willshaw said he did not know what time the official will arrive.

Council's new offer to the striking union was spelled out in a meeting with Lewis Campbell and John Kelly, both of Youngstown and both district representatives of Council 18 of the AFSCME, and James McKinnon, president, and Charles Masters, secretary, of Local 677.

Council reiterated its previous offer of a 5 per cent raise to cover the incinerator and street departments' laborers, maintenance men, truck drivers and mechanics and all hourly and salaried personnel of the water and sewage departments except the superintendents and clerks.

THE UNION was told that the offer did not include the city's four "Meter Maids," clerical help and a laborer at Thompson Park. However, Council agreed to authorize a job study of the other posts and grant raises of up to 5 per cent if the boosts were shown to be justified.

The only modification in the proposal was on the terms for overtime pay. Council stipulated that hourly - rated workers would draw time-and-one-half pay for any work in excess of eight hours in one day, while salaried workers would draw the same premium pay after 40 hours in one week. In the previous offer, overtime was provided for only after 40 hours in a week.

Solicitor J. Michael Kapp said Monday that Council's 5 per cent offer would mean $19.36 more a month, based on a 40-hour week, for a city laborer who draws $2.14 hourly.

Council settled a wage problem with police and firemen last week voting a general $23-a-month raise. The boost meant 5 per cent for rank-and-file firemen and police, but less for higher-paid commanding officers.

Some councilmen said the local appears to be holding out for the same $23 raise.

The negotiating meeting adjourned a few minutes after 8. The local then called a special meeting of its members for 9 in the Council chamber, expecting a decision in 15 minutes. The session actually lasted about a half an hour.

KELLY emerged and announced to Council that the vote was 22 to 18 not to accept Council's offer. He explained that about 15 of the union's 55 members were not present.

Despite the closeness of the vote, the local also "reaffirmed our position and voted to stand side-by-side," Kelly said. He also said in response to a query that there had been no change in the local's position concerning operation of the sewage plant.

After receiving the local's decision, Council conferred with Mayor Willshaw, Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Solicitor Kapp. The major result was the decision to ask the state to send in men to operate the sewage plant.

Attending the earlier negotiating session with the local were Council Donal I. Burcham, Robert W. Sample, Floyd Murray, Frank Duffy and Edward Massey. President Norman Bucher, Wilshaw and Vodrey also attended.

The city Health Department said it has received "many, many" telephone calls from housewives concerned about accumulating garbage, along with the accompanying stench and danger of rat and roach infestation.

Pact Awarded On New Span In Waterford

LISBON — County commissioners entered into a contract Monday with Wilbur Whan Construction Co. of Leetonia RD 2 to build a new bridge on Boardman St., New Waterford.

Whan's bid of $46,636.40 compares with County Engineer John Ursu's estimate of $52,660.10. Krauss Construction of Canfield bid $50,077.10 and Bricker Construction of Salem, $51,962.70.

Ursu said the new bridge will be a 50-foot span over Bull Creek, replacing an old, narrow truss bridge which has been closed since January. Difficulty in obtaining easements caused the delay, he said.

The new bridge will have a reinforced concrete deck over steel beams. It will have a 24-foot-wide roadway plus one four-foot sidewalk and one two-foot safety curb. The entire length of the project will be .055 of a mile. Ursu said he expects the contractor will begin work in about a week.

The commissioners held a public hearing on the Ohio Highway Department's request for vacation of a 369-foot-long portion of Township Rd. 739 (Allen Rd.) in Section 26 of Perry Township.

The state seeks the vacation in connection with the proposed relocation of Routes 62 and 14-Alternate northwest of Salem.

Commissioners paid the City of Wellsville $20 for 40 stray dogs destroyed during June.

Soviet Still Has Troops And Airliner

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were no signs today that the Soviet Union plans the quick release of a U.S. airliner that was forced to land by Russian MIGs during a troop-carrying flight to Vietnam.

The State Department said Monday that Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin told U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow merely that the matter was under investigation. He gave "no assurances" of prompt return of the plane or the 229 persons aboard, the State Department said.

The aircraft, a DC8 chartered by the military from Seaboard-World Airlines, was carrying 212 Vietnam-bound servicemen and a crew of 17, when the Soviet fighter planes forced it to land Sunday on Interup Island in the Pacific Kurile chain.

The United States said the jet had strayed off course while bound for a fueling stop in Japan after leaving McChord Air Force Base in Tacoma, Wash.

While pressing for release of the plane and those aboard, U.S. officials reportedly see the incident as a stickly one for the Soviet Union, a situation that will require delicate handling.

If the Kremlin were to allow the plane and passengers to leave at an early time it would likely face condemnation from Red China and other Communist countries.

The plane was carrying men bound for the Vietnam fighting and any move by the Kremlin to allow their early release would likely be criticized by Red China and perhaps other Communist countries as undercutting their North Vietnam friends.

Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon said the United States should demand "immediate release" of the plane and those aboard.

"These demands," he said, "should be coupled with a clear warning to the Soviet leaders that this unwarranted action threatens progress toward a detente . . . (and) new and serious tensions could build between the United States and the Soviet Union."

Brown Issues Statement

Board Replies To ELTA, Gets Delegation Support

ed to the board for appointment. The position of athletic director has existed for many years, and has been held here by coaching and non - coaching faculty members. No preferential treatment has been shown and it is not contemplated that the position of athletic director will be eliminated."

"The board of education will take under advisement any situation that is presented through the proper channels."

FURTHER comments Brown made concerning these statements were that a grievance is a violation of a negotiated agreement. "This, as presented to the board, is, therefore, not a grievance — but a demand. The board is willing to talk to the official representatives of the ELTA — but the law does not permit the board to delegate its powers and duties. The board of education and the administration will not abrogate their authority to any organization.

"The board and administration are willing to discuss problems in an ethical manner, then if no agreement is reached, we follow the proper negotiations procedures.

FOLLOWING this statement, Brown said that he had done some research concerning the position of athletic director in other schools. In the "Big 8" he said he found that in one school which operated on a 6-period school day, the athletic director had three study halls, two periods for athletic director, and one open. "He receives an extra salary of $1,000 for this."

At another school, Brown reported there is a full - time athletic director who receives a salary of $15,000. "Still another director has an 8-period day—three physical education classes, three designated for athletic director work, one for coaching, and one unassigned, and receives an extra $1,500 for the athletic director position."

"Another divides his periods three classes, three for athletic director two unassigned, and receives $1,500. Over the state of Ohio, a report published by the Ohio High School Athletic Directors Association, says that the average over the state paid for athletic directors is $655.96. This goes from 0-$5,040.

"It goes anywhere from no time allotted per day to a full day, and says that sports included average 6, starting with three an running as high as 13.

BROWN SAID these figures are facts, and feels that the amount being paid the athletic director of East Liverpool is certainly reasonable, as shown by these other figures.

The commendation for the board came from a delegation whose spokesman was Robert Bartram of Olnhausen St.

He said, "We as citizens of East Liverpool, have elected you folks to your office, and there are times when you need support. We are here to give you support.

"Academically, we have a good school. I have a son who graduated from East Liverpool this year, and he was in the top 10. We feel the academic program puts East Liverpool 'on top of the heap.' Our new buildings say a lot for what this board has done."

"Athleticly, we have a fine program. Patterson Field is one of the best. The coaching staff is excellent. We can't fathom why anyone would want to criticize the football staff. We want to thank you for all that you have done and are doing."

Board member Harry McConville thanked the group for its statement. He told them they "are the backbone of the system; you support the sports program. It is not often people like you will stand up and be counted."

Brown said he appreciated the group taking time on such a warm night to come to the meeting. "It's not often someone will offer a rose like his. Usually it is something that smells a little different. The board will do what it feels is best," Brown stated, "because we were elected to represent the people."

Bartram then added, "No other school will say they have a Coach McNea. Not many schools are in the top ten. Our program is one of the best."

BROWN said that 62 boys names were signed to a petition saying that the schools have a good program and hope it will continue along the same way.

William Blair, board member, said he feels good athletic teams usually are backed up by a good educational program. He also thanked the group for coming to the meeting.

Supt. Paul Blair said the administrators job is not a bed of roses. "I don't know anyone who works any harder than I do for the school system. I will continue to do so.

"We have a responsibility to the citizens of the community. We are going to have a better school system than in the past.

For four years we have been involved in his building program, along with regular duties.

"It is good to know someone is on the superintendent's side. A week ago I felt no one was. As long as I am here, I will dedicate my time to the community and citizens to continue to provide the best education possible. We are headed for the finest program in the state.

"Our physical facilities will be the best in Ohio when we open the doors in the fall. The people will be proud whether they admit it or not. I am proud to be superintendent and hope to continue that way."

Cumberland Sets Paving Program For Enon Areas

NEW CUMBERLAND—A contract for $35,000 to repair streets in Enon Valley, was awarded the Tri-State Asphalt Co. during a meeting of New Cumberland City Council Monday night.

Mayor Arthur Watson called the improvement project the most ambitious street paving project Council has undertaken in the last eight to ten years.

The contract, financed by the Citizens Bank of Weirton, calls for the permanent paving and curbing of the streets in Enon Valley.

Second reading was given to a resolution for permanent improvement of 2nd Ave. from Smith St. to a point about 300 yards south. Third and final reading will be held July 9 in a public meeting when residents of 2nd Ave. may express their opinions.

Police Resume Hunt For Drowning Victim

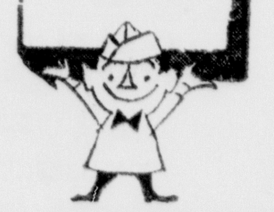

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County police were expected to resume today the search for Charles Feltner, 33, who drowned Monday afternoon in the Great Miami River at Cleves, just west of Cincinnati.

Feltner's wife, Juanita, told police he and their two sons were wading when the three stepped into deep water. She said he pushed the two boys to shallow water and disappeared.

ty" of any men it sent here to operate the plant. He said he pointed out there was a strike in progress, involving the plant's workers, and that the state's engineers would have to cross a picket line in order to take over the operation.

Huddlestun said he also pointed out there is a city ordinance that bans the importation of workers to take over the jobs of persons who are on strike.

Street and incinerator department services also have been halted by the strike, which went into full effect Friday. However, the water department pumping and filtration plants were operating normally with crews which the union allowed to report to work.

"THE HEALTH of the community is being jeopardized," Council was told last night by Dr. J. Keith Rugh, chairman of the Health Board, after the new negotiations collapsed. He said the fact garbage collections have been interrupted since Wednesday is a serious health threat.

Mayor George E. Willshaw said he believes the state officials due today may offer some suggestions for at least temporary resumption of refuse services.

The round of conferences and negotiations went on until nearly 11 last night. As the meetings concluded, Council agreed tentatively to meet again Wednesday night at 7 with the workers, who are represented by Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

WEBER WAS called into conference with Council in Willshaw's office after the union had announced rejection of the latest offer.

"The State Health Department told me this afternoon if this was not settled tonight it would send in its engineers tomorrow at 9 a. m. to operate the (sewage) plant," Weber said. "The department also reminded me that the city is subject to a fine of $500 a day for dumping untreated sewage into the Ohio River."

The city contends that the treatment plant has not operated normally since about 3:15 a.m. Saturday. Huddlestun said a plant worker reported Friday midnight after Council and the union negotiated and the union indicated it would allow the water and sewage plants to be manned at least over the weekend until the talks resumed.

Huddlestun said the lone employe went home at 3:15, after working about three hours. Huddlestun said he has been the only worker on duty at the plant since.

He said he had no alternative except to set up the bypass system and allow sewage to flow into the river without being treated. The bypass system usually is utilized only when there is a heavy rainstorm and water pours into the plant in such volume that it cannot be processed.

WEBER ALSO pointed out to Council that the city's landfill garbage and trash dump was closed at mid-afternoon Monday on orders of the County Health Department because there was no bulldozer operator present to cover the refuse daily, as a new state law requires.

This gave new emphasis to the garbage collection problem, as private haulers and some citizens had been hauling refuse to the big Madison Township site. There also were some reports that pickets were halting drivers of cars and trucks who attempted to pull onto the dump site on the Y. & O. Rd.

Incinerator Supt. John Melvin reminded householders not to put their refuse outside for collection, as it will only become soggy in the frequent rains.

Weber said the Ohio Health Department instructed him today to post placards along the Ohio River shore downstream from the sewage plant's outlet warning that the waters are "unsafe for recreational use" because of the raw sewage being dumped into the stream.

The signs will be posted as soon as they can be printed, Weber said. He pointed out the city pumps about two million gallons of water daily and most of it reenters the river through the sewage plant, along with liquid and solid wastes.

Although the Ohio Health Department decided not to send in plant operators, it will dispatch at least one representative to confer with municipal officials on the health hazards posed by the sewage treatment and garbage collection crisis, the mayor said. Willshaw said he did not know what time the official will arrive.

Council's new offer to the striking union was spelled out in a meeting with Lewis Campbell and John Kelly, both of Youngstown and both district representatives of Council 18 of the AFSCME, and James McKinnon, president, and Charles Masters, secretary, of Local 677.

Council reiterated its previous offer of a 5 per cent raise to cover the incinerator and street departments' laborers, maintenance men, truck drivers and mechanics and all hourly and salaried personnel of the water and sewage departments except the superintendents and clerks.

In the previous offer, overtime was provided for only after 40 hours in a week.

Solicitor J. Michael Kapp said Monday that Council's 5 per cent offer would mean $19.36 more a month, based on a 40-hour week, for a city laborer who draws $2.14 hourly.

Council settled a wage problem with police and firemen last week voting a general $23-a-month raise. The boost meant 5 per cent for rank-and-file firemen and police, but less for higher-paid commanding officers.

Some councilmen said the local appears to be holding out for the same $23 raise.

KELLY emerged and announced to Council that the vote was 22 to 18 not to accept Council's offer. He explained that about 15 of the union's 55 members were not present.

Despite the closeness of the vote, the local also "reaffirmed our position and voted to stand side-by-side," Kelly said. He also said in response to a query that there had been no change in the local's position concerning operation of the sewage plant.

Pact Awarded On New Span In Waterford

LISBON — County commissioners entered into a contract Monday with Wilbur Whan Construction Co. of Leetonia RD 2 to build a new bridge on Boardman St., New Waterford.

Whan's bid of $46,636.40 compares with County Engineer John Ursu's estimate of $52,660.10. Krauss Construction of Canfield bid $50,077.10 and Bricker Construction of Salem, $51,962.70.

Ursu said the new bridge will be a 50-foot span over Bull Creek, replacing an old, narrow truss bridge which has been closed since January. Difficulty in obtaining easements caused the delay, he said.

The commissioners held a public hearing on the Ohio Highway Department's request for vacation of a 369-foot-long portion of Township Rd. 739 (Allen Rd.) in Section 26 of Perry Township.

The state seeks the vacation in connection with the proposed relocation of Routes 62 and 14-Alternate northwest of Salem.

Commissioners paid the City of Wellsville $20 for 40 stray dogs destroyed during June.

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were no signs today that the Soviet Union plans the quick release of a U.S. airliner that was forced to land by Russian MIGs during a troop-carrying flight to Vietnam.

ed in the river while swimming with two companions just below the Toronto power plant near the Tiger Town Sky Club Boat Dock.

Emergency teams from New Cumberland and the Brilliant Rescue Squad were called to aid in the search.

The body was discovered by John County of the Brilliant Rescue Squad and Paul McCarthy of the Toronto police department when a boat, traveling up-river near the buoys about 400 yards down river from the boat dock, stirred the water, bringing the body to the surface.

Kay Loraine Lock, 18, a companion of the Millard boy, was pulled from the water in a state of shock by Frank Leifer and Al Rodd, two Massillon men camping in the area, shortly after the accident was reported, sheriff's deputies said.

The Lock girl and the other companion, Frank Walker, 13, both live at 1324 N. River Ave., Toronto, deputies said.

The two will be questioned later in an attempt to determine how the accident happened, deputies added.

Requiem Mass will be held Wednesday for young Millard.

His father was the late Richard Thomas Millard.

Born July 21, 1953 in Steubenville, Millard was a member of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Toronto. He was a student at the S. C. Dennis School.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by a sister, Beverly Joann Millard, at home.

Frisby argued that an offense could be a political offense without any attempt to overthrow the lawful government of a country. Nor was it necessary for there to be any kind of open insurrection or civil war, he contended.

"Wherever there is a substantial body of persons in the state seeking by constitutional or other means to compel the government or the state to change its policy, you have a situation where even the crime of murder may be motivated politically," Frisby asserted.

"I have to say that the deceased man was a political figure engaging in political activities."

Hijacked

members of the Northwest jet were undergoing questioning by the FBI. The official said the man who heads the Cuban equivalent of the Federal Aviation Administration, "the head man there," said due to the "load factor of the airplane and the short runway there it was unsafe."

The plane was the second American airliner hijacked to Cuba in 48 hours, the seventh airliner taken to Havana this year.

Kenneth Biaggi, spokesman for the airline, said the plane returned with only its seven-member crew.

He said he did not know why the passengers remained in Havana.

The plane left Cuba at 5:58 a.m., EDT, and touched down at Miami International Airport 39 minutes later.

The 87 air travelers and seven crew members made the unscheduled journey to Havana after a first class passenger on the Northwest Airlines jet pulled a gun during the plane's approach to Miami and ordered the pilot to continue south.

The airline's headquarters in Minneapolis, Minn., listed the crew as Capt. Richard Simonson, pilot; First Officer Richard Conrad, copilot; Second Officer Kenneth Warras; and stewardesses Nancy Lee Stevenson, Barbara Schlosser, Margurite Schmidt and Margaret Burt. The crew was out of Minneapolis.

The Boeing 727 jet touched down just hours after a Southeast Airlines DC3 with 14 passengers and a three-man crew were permitted to complete a flight to Key West that was interrupted Saturday by a well-dressed Negro who put a gun to the head of the pilot.

Navy Jets Follow

First reports of the Northwest hijacking came from Key West where Navy jets intercepted messages from the airliner and followed it "almost to the ground in Havana," an official said.

The flight originated in Minneapolis and picked up passengers in Chicago before starting for Miami.

Paul Boatman, Federal Aviation Administration regional official, said that when the hijacker first commandeered the plane, he ordered the pilot to request nonstop clearance for Miami. "Then he came back a few moments later and said, 'Make that Havana,'" Boatman said.

George Prellezo, Cuban-born pilot of the pirated Southeast flight, was jailed in Havana and a spokesman for the Fidel Castro government said he would be tried "as an enemy of the state."

Man Jailed

Prellezo, a naturalized American, fled Cuba in 1960. Passengers reported after returning to Key West Monday that Prellezo was taken off the plane and hustled away under armed guard.

Saturday's hijacking was the first instance of air piracy since FAA and Federal Bureau of Investigation officials met last April to devise new methods to prevent such takeovers.

After the meetings, Boatman announced that several measures would be adopted by airlines and federal officials, but refused to detail them saying it would only serve as warnings to future hijackers. He declined to say if the measures were put into effect during the latest hijackings.

The two latest cases were the sixth and seventh hijacking of commercial airlines since the first of the year. No one was harmed or detained in the earlier hijackings.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson plans to join five Central American presidents meeting in San Salvador over the weekend for an economic conference.

Johnson will fly to San Salvador Saturday from Texas, the White House said Monday, to join the presidents of Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatamala, Honduras and Nicaragua.

En route back to Washington Monday he is to return four of the presidents to their respective capitals.

The White House said Johnson will fly to Texas Wednesday taking with him some 40 Latin American ambassadors and their wives who have been invited to participate in July 4 ceremonies at HemisFair, the international exposition in San Antonio

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board says consumer debt hit a record $100.3 billion by the end of may and outstanding installment credit made its biggest jump in nearly two years.

Installment credit increased $610 million on a seasonally adjusted basis for a total $79.27 billion, the board said Monday, and non-installment debt rose $21 billion on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The debt figure includes money owed by Americans for cars, consumer goods, home repairs, personal loans, charge and service accounts and single payment loans. It excludes real estate mortgages and insurance policy loans.

The installment credit jump was the highest since march 1966.

Capital Footnotes

The State Department reports "no breakthrough" in a meeting with North Korean representatives at Panmunjom last Thursday on return of the captured USS Pueblo and its crew.

President Johnson has accepted the resignations of William F. McKee as head of the Federal Aviation Administration and Lee Loevinger as a member of the Federal Communications Commission. Loevinger said he plans to return to private life. McKee is completing 39 years of government service.

Capital Quote

"The poor people of this country have a cause ... (but) I wonder if the Poor People's Campaign isn't badly in need of public relations advice."—Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall, saying the campaign "put its worst foot forward" during the recent six-week encampment in Washington.

Cost

additional $100,000 to build Resurrection City, and there was another $10,000 spent to bring the mule train, symbol of rural poverty, to the city.

Of the government expenditures, about $85,000 went toward tearing down the shantytown and replacing the grass trampled in the mud-filled 15-acre camp site.

Most of the governmental expenses, $129,603 spent by the National Park Service and the $500,000 incurred by the District of Columbia, went to pay overtime for policemen.

These estimates cover known government and SCLC expenses. There is another category of expenditures that may never be fully known—the thousands of dollars worth of money, goods and time donated by hundreds of people and organizations.

The large cost of transporting the campaigners to Washington was borne primarily by sympathetic businesses, civic groups, civil rights organizations and support committees organized early in the year by SCLC.

Washington area churches donated living space, food and clothing. Doctors, dentists and nurses gave their time, companies gave medicine. And individuals chipped in everything from loaned automobiles to the price of a long-distance telephone call back home.

Jail and court costs for the more than 200 demonstrators arrested a week ago Monday have not been estimated.

Hancock Gets Plant, Ground Free Of Cost

NEW CUMBERLAND — Hancock County commissioners Monday afternoon slated their willingness to accept the New Cumberland plant of the Hancock Manufacturing Co. as a gift to the county from the company.

Louis M. Seese, secretary - treasurer of the firm, approached the court with the offer and said "no strings will be attached," that the County could do what it wished with the plant.

Prosecuting Atty. Floyd Tarr, in his capacity as legal adviser to the county, was authorized to make all necessary legal arrangements for the county to accept the gift.

The plant is located in south New Cumberland along the river and contains eight acres of ground and a building with 65,000 square feet of space.

In other action, commissioners approved the salary budget list for the county clerk, circuit clerk, sheriff's office and the assessor's office and permanent county employes for the new fiscal year.

It was noted that at the time the court get the budget it recommended and strongly stressed that each permanent employe should receive a $150 increase in salary. However, it was stated the commissioners do not determine the final salaries, as they are set by the elected department heads.

Commissioners decided to send a letter to each justice of the peace in Hancock County notifying them of the raise in daily jail fees in Brooke and Ohio Counties for each prisoner. The rate now is $5.60 per day.

Andrew Kondik, county Civil Defense director, told the court he had been re - elected president of the West Virginia Civil Defense Council at the state convention held recently at Charleston. House Bill Permits Delta Queen To Run

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed a bill Monday to permit another two years operation of the Delta Queen, a copy of an oldtime paddlewheel steamer owned by Greene Steamship Lines of Cincinnati.

The vessel, built in 1926, was not constructed of fire-retardant materials as required by present coast guard standards.

Backers of the bill said the two years would allow enough time for the vessel's successor to be placed in operation. Without the bill, the Delta Queen would make her last run this November.

The Senate has passed a similar bill.

Hijacked

members of the Northwest jet were undergoing questioning by the FBI. The official said the man who heads the Cuban equivalent of the Federal Aviation Administration, "the head man there," said due to the "load factor of the airplane and the short runway there it was unsafe."

The plane was the second American airliner hijacked to Cuba in 48 hours, the seventh airliner taken to Havana this year.

Kenneth Biaggi, spokesman for the airline, said the plane returned with only its seven-member crew.

He said he did not know why the passengers remained in Havana.

The plane left Cuba at 5:58 a.m., EDT, and touched down at Miami International Airport 39 minutes later.

The 87 air travelers and seven crew members made the unscheduled journey to Havana after a first class passenger on the Northwest Airlines jet pulled a gun during the plane's approach to Miami and ordered the pilot to continue south.

The airline's headquarters in Minneapolis, Minn., listed the crew as Capt. Richard Simonson, pilot; First Officer Richard Conrad, copilot; Second Officer Kenneth Warras; and stewardesses Nancy Lee Stevenson, Barbara Schlosser, Margurite Schmidt and Margaret Burt. The crew was out of Minneapolis.

The Boeing 727 jet touched down just hours after a Southeast Airlines DC3 with 14 passengers and a three-man crew were permitted to complete a flight to Key West that was interrupted Saturday by a well-dressed Negro who put a gun to the head of the pilot.

Navy Jets Follow

First reports of the Northwest hijacking came from Key West where Navy jets intercepted messages from the airliner and followed it "almost to the ground in Havana," an official said.

The flight originated in Minneapolis and picked up passengers in Chicago before starting for Miami.

Paul Boatman, Federal Aviation Administration regional official, said that when the hijacker first commandeered the plane, he ordered the pilot to request nonstop clearance for Miami. "Then he came back a few moments later and said, 'Make that Havana,'" Boatman said.

George Prellezo, Cuban-born pilot of the pirated Southeast flight, was jailed in Havana and a spokesman for the Fidel Castro government said he would be tried "as an enemy of the state."

Man Jailed

Prellezo, a naturalized American, fled Cuba in 1960. Passengers reported after returning to Key West Monday that Prellezo was taken off the plane and hustled away under armed guard.

Saturday's hijacking was the first instance of air piracy since FAA and Federal Bureau of Investigation officials met last April to devise new methods to prevent such takeovers.

After the meetings, Boatman announced that several measures would be adopted by airlines and federal officials, but refused to detail them saying it would only serve as warnings to future hijackers. He declined to say if the measures were put into effect during the latest hijackings.

The two latest cases were the sixth and seventh hijacking of commercial airlines since the first of the year. No one was harmed or detained in the earlier hijackings.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board says consumer debt hit a record $100.3 billion by the end of may and outstanding installment credit made its biggest jump in nearly two years.

Installment credit increased $610 million on a seasonally adjusted basis for a total $79.27 billion, the board said Monday, and non-installment debt rose $21 billion on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The debt figure includes money owed by Americans for cars, consumer goods, home repairs, personal loans, charge and service accounts and single payment loans. It excludes real estate mortgages and insurance policy loans.

The installment credit jump was the highest since march 1966.

additional $100,000 to build Resurrection City, and there was another $10,000 spent to bring the mule train, symbol of rural poverty, to the city.

Of the government expenditures, about $85,000 went toward tearing down the shantytown and replacing the grass trampled in the mud-filled 15-acre camp site.

Most of the governmental expenses, $129,603 spent by the National Park Service and the $500,000 incurred by the District of Columbia, went to pay overtime for policemen.

These estimates cover known government and SCLC expenses. There is another category of expenditures that may never be fully known—the thousands of dollars worth of money, goods and time donated by hundreds of people and organizations.

The large cost of transporting the campaigners to Washington was borne primarily by sympathetic businesses, civic groups, civil rights organizations and support committees organized early in the year by SCLC.

Washington area churches donated living space, food and clothing. Doctors, dentists and nurses gave their time, companies gave medicine. And individuals chipped in everything from loaned automobiles to the price of a long-distance telephone call back home.

Jail and court costs for the more than 200 demonstrators arrested a week ago Monday have not been estimated.

Hancock Gets Plant, Ground Free Of Cost

NEW CUMBERLAND — Hancock County commissioners Monday afternoon slated their willingness to accept the New Cumberland plant of the Hancock Manufacturing Co. as a gift to the county from the company.

Louis M. Seese, secretary - treasurer of the firm, approached the court with the offer and said "no strings will be attached," that the County could do what it wished with the plant.

Prosecuting Atty. Floyd Tarr, in his capacity as legal adviser to the county, was authorized to make all necessary legal arrangements for the county to accept the gift.

The plant is located in south New Cumberland along the river and contains eight acres of ground and a building with 65,000 square feet of space.

In other action, commissioners approved the salary budget list for the county clerk, circuit clerk, sheriff's office and the assessor's office and permanent county employes for the new fiscal year.

House Bill Permits Delta Queen To Run

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed a bill Monday to permit another two years operation of the Delta Queen, a copy of an oldtime paddlewheel steamer owned by Greene Steamship Lines of Cincinnati.

The vessel, built in 1926, was not constructed of fire-retardant materials as required by present coast guard standards.

Backers of the bill said the two years would allow enough time for the vessel's successor to be placed in operation. Without the bill, the Delta Queen would make her last run this November.

The Senate has passed a similar bill.

Walk Out On NAACP

'Young Turks' Working To Forge New Movement

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "Young Turk" militants whose aggressive demands nearly broke up the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's annual convention this past week are walking out of that moderate civil rights organization.

They hope to forge a new link between themselves, the Congress of Racial Equality, The Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

NAACP leaders are probably relieved to see them go.

The leaders weren't worried about the perennial militant threat to their control. Despite loud boasts, the Young Turks failed this year for the fourth straight time to get any of their resolutions close to a passing vote.

But NAACP leaders, who have a deep faith in orderly procedure, were aghast at having to call Atlantic City police onto their convention floor to end a noisy, scuffling demonstration.

That was also the act that triggered the walkout of militants who say the convention tolerated worse disruptions when staged by friendly delegates.

The first to leave was Dr. Eugene T. Reed, an NAACP board of directors member for the past five years, who revaled his resignation Monday with a blast at the "Nazi-like atmosphere of strongarm techniques . . ." at the convention.

Dr. Reed, an Amityville, N.Y., dentist and a two-time past president of the New York State converence of branches, has long argued that the NAACP's emphasis on bringing Negroes into the existing American social system is behind the times.

"You and the board of directors," he telegraphed Executive Director Roy Wilkins, "not only demonstrated this past week an unwillingness to change, but that you are willing to use any and all means to keep the association from being relevant to the many problems of black people."

Monday afternoon Chester Lewis, a well-to-do Wichita, Kan., attorney who succeeded Reed as leader of the militant faction, said he would resign as branch president and legal counsel, and renounce his life membership.

Lewis, 48, accused the NAACP leadership of using money, favors and threats to buy convention votes and said the 2-1 margin by which his proposals were beaten don't reflect the delegates' true sympathies.

"We've reached the conclusion that we can't meet the organized force they put against us," he said in a telephone interview.

An NAACP spokesman, in turn, accused Lewis of being unwilling to abide by the convention's decision. "At no time did they have the voting strength that could have passed anything," said Glouster Current, NAACP director of branches.

The basic dispute is more complex than that, however. Lewis argues that a nonviolent, nonracist Black Power—clearly labeled as such and used to build economic and political power in the ghettoes—is the country's only salvation.

He is angry at the large southern NAACP delegation that block voted against the Young Turk resolutions.

"The Southern black man is like the Southern white man, he's a damn conservative," Lewis said. "Plus the black South is going through the same hangup the black North went through 20 years ago, going into hotels, restaurants, airports. They actually think there's hope assimilation will occur. We've been through this, we know it won't . . . They still think that if they sing enough, and march enough, and pray enough, they will overcome."

That is not the kind of rhetoric the present NAACP leadership likes to deal in.

"We're going to hew to the line—fight segregation, get new job opportunities for our people, continue to work to improve the opportunities for ghetto dwellers," said Henry Lee Moon, the organization's public relations director.

"We're trying to make the Negro more a part, a sharer, in the good things of American life. We believe it can be done within the framework of our system . . . I would feel that we're still on course."

Faced with this situation, Lewis said he and 200 to 300 unhappy NAACP delegates decided at a postconvention conference to call a meeting in December to explore links with other groups.

According To Polls

Nixon, Humphrey Lead In Convention 'Votes'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has nearly three-quarters of the 667 convention votes required for a first-ballot Republican presidential nomination, counting only delegates who had taken a stand in public.

Assuming Sen. John G. Tower was, as he believed, taking most of the 56-vote Texas delegation along on his shift from favorite son status to the Nixon column, the former vice president would be over the three-quarter mark.

With Texas listed uncommitted pending an individual count, a tabulation by The Associated Press showed Nixon with 478. The count covered only delegates assigned to Nixon by presidntial primary vote, pledged at the time they were selected, or picking him in an AP poll.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller trailed on the same basis at 192.

Both had a pool of 317 delegates backing favorite sons and 300 who were at least ostensibly uncommitted, to work on before roll call at the convention opening in Miami Beach Aug. 5.

Fewer than 100 of the 1,333 Republican delegates remained to be selected.

In a similar AP tabulation Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had 640¼ votes to 401¼ for his Democratic rival, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy. At the Democratic convention beginning in Chicago Aug. 26 it takes 1,312 to win.

The Democratic competitors had an even longer list of fence riders to cultivate. There were 514½ votes back of favorite sons and an outsized pool of 771 otherwise uncommitted.

The big group in the latter category were 151 in California who still had not taken a new stand since the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy freed them of a primary election commitment, 103 in Illinois mostly waiting on word from Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, and 99½ in New York, including 49½ whose stand had not been determined since they were picked in state convention. Dozens of other former Kennedy delegates were also uncommitted.

The Democrats were still some 300 shy of having their 2,662 convention seats filled.

Flooding Reported In Michigan Lakes

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Water levels in some southeast Michigan lakes—swelled to the flood point by several days of severe thunderstorms—are so high that fast-moving boats are sending water across living room floors, says the Michigan Conservation Department.

James A. Hadley, head of the department's boat and water safety section, said the water may take three or four weeks to recede to normal levels. In the meantime, he said, it is illegal to operate a boat in such a manner as to damage property.

Heat Wave Creates Shortage Of Water

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The temperature hit an official high of 96 degrees Monday and brought a wave of illegal fire hydrant taps which lowered the water supply to a trickle in some homes in Philadelphia.

Water Commissioner Samuel Baxter said more than 1,000 hydrants were tapped, and about 700 complaint calls were received by his office.

Youth Held In Shooting Of His Sister

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — Geauga County authorities have charged an 18-year-old youth in the fatal shooting of his 10-year-old sister in 1966, a shooting that was ruled accidental by the county coroner at the time.

The conflict in the arrest and 1966 ruling is the latest in a long dispute between the sheriff's office and County Coroner Dr. Alton W. Behm.

Deputies are holding the Newbury Township youth on a deliquency charge for having "intentionally" shot his sister in the head with a rifle July 21, 1966.

Detective Capt. William Strawbridge said they doubted the youth's statement that he slipped from a ladder and his .22-caliber rifle discharged, killing his sister who was standing nearby in their home.

Strawbridge said that several weeks ago county welfare authorities helped persuade an eyewitness to the shooting to talk about it.

The unidentified witness did not tell his story before because he was afraid of retaliation, Strawbridge said.

Last August, Strawbridge and Sheriff Louis A. Robusky said they believed that three out of seven deaths ruled suicides by Dr. Behm were actually homicides.

They claimed Dr. Behm had not performed autopsies and in some cases had ruled before the sheriff's department had a chance to investigate.

At that time, Dr. Behm said there was not enough new evidence to change any of the seven rulings. He also pointed out the county does not have the necessary facilities for autopsies.

A Lower Jawbone

Fossil Of Primate Order Found In Northern India

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The discovery of a significant new fossil, perhaps related to the evolution of man, was announced today at the second International Congress of Primatology.

The announcement—by Dr. Elwyn L. Simons of Yale University and Dr. S. R. K. Chopra of Panjab University, Chandigarh, India—came in a paper prepared for delivery by Simons to the congress, attended by some 300 scientists from 15 nations.

Simons said the discovery is that of "an excellently preserved jaw of a new kind of gigantopithecus of the Middle Pliocene Age."

Sources explained that the gigantopithecus is a form of primate—the order of mammals which includes man, apes and monkeys—and said the Middle Pliocene Age dates back some five million to 10 million years.

Simons said the find appears to be "the oldest jaw recovered to date in the old world of an animal related to the great apes and man which shows pronounced reduction of front tooth size."

Sources interpreted this to indicate some humanoid tendencies.

"Even if it is not related to any later primates other than the Chinese gigantopithecus, the new Indian discovery is important because fossils—whether of ape or human affinity—are almost unknown from the Middle and Late Pliocene deposits of the old world," Simons said in a statement.

He also said that the find is "the most complete mandible, or lower jawbone, of an ape found in Europe or Asia in tertiary rocks since 1876."

The new discovery was made about 30 miles north of Bilaspur in the northern India state of Hemachal Pradesh by a Simons-Chopra field party under the direction of Grant E. Meyer, research associate of Simons at Yale.

The jaw was found in rocks of the Dhok Pathan formation, generally considered to be of the Middle Pliocene Age or earlier, Simons said, and the size "suggests that this animal was larger or bulkier than most present day gorillas."

The research, known as the Chandigarh-Yale project, was conducted in the foothills of the Himalayas and was supported by grants from the National Science Foundation and the Smithsonian foreign currency program.

Simons is professor of paleontology and curator of the division of fossil vertebrates of Peabody Museum at Yale.

According To Polls

Nixon, Humphrey Lead In Convention 'Votes'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has nearly three-quarters of the 667 convention votes required for a first-ballot Republican presidential nomination, counting only delegates who had taken a stand in public.

Assuming Sen. John G. Tower was, as he believed, taking most of the 56-vote Texas delegation along on his shift from favorite son status to the Nixon column, the former vice president would be over the three-quarter mark.

With Texas listed uncommitted pending an individual count, a tabulation by The Associated Press showed Nixon with 478. The count covered only delegates assigned to Nixon by presidntial primary vote, pledged at the time they were selected, or picking him in an AP poll.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller trailed on the same basis at 192.

Both had a pool of 317 delegates backing favorite sons and 300 who were at least ostensibly uncommitted, to work on before roll call at the convention opening in Miami Beach Aug. 5.

Fewer than 100 of the 1,333 Republican delegates remained to be selected.

In a similar AP tabulation Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had 640¼ votes to 401¼ for his Democratic rival, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy. At the Democratic convention beginning in Chicago Aug. 26 it takes 1,312 to win.

The Democratic competitors had an even longer list of fence riders to cultivate. There were 514½ votes back of favorite sons and an outsized pool of 771 otherwise uncommitted.

The big group in the latter category were 151 in California who still had not taken a new stand since the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy freed them of a primary election commitment, 103 in Illinois mostly waiting on word from Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, and 99½ in New York, including 49½ whose stand had not been determined since they were picked in state convention. Dozens of other former Kennedy delegates were also uncommitted.

The Democrats were still some 300 shy of having their 2,662 convention seats filled.

Flooding Reported In Michigan Lakes

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Water levels in some southeast Michigan lakes—swelled to the flood point by several days of severe thunderstorms—are so high that fast-moving boats are sending water across living room floors, says the Michigan Conservation Department.

James A. Hadley, head of the department's boat and water safety section, said the water may take three or four weeks to recede to normal levels. In the meantime, he said, it is illegal to operate a boat in such a manner as to damage property.

Heat Wave Creates Shortage Of Water

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The temperature hit an official high of 96 degrees Monday and brought a wave of illegal fire hydrant taps which lowered the water supply to a trickle in some homes in Philadelphia.

Water Commissioner Samuel Baxter said more than 1,000 hydrants were tapped, and about 700 complaint calls were received by his office.

Youth Held In Shooting Of His Sister

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — Geauga County authorities have charged an 18-year-old youth in the fatal shooting of his 10-year-old sister in 1966, a shooting that was ruled accidental by the county coroner at the time.

The conflict in the arrest and 1966 ruling is the latest in a long dispute between the sheriff's office and County Coroner Dr. Alton W. Behm.

Deputies are holding the Newbury Township youth on a deliquency charge for having "intentionally" shot his sister in the head with a rifle July 21, 1966.

Detective Capt. William Strawbridge said they doubted the youth's statement that he slipped from a ladder and his .22-caliber rifle discharged, killing his sister who was standing nearby in their home.

Strawbridge said that several weeks ago county welfare authorities helped persuade an eyewitness to the shooting to talk about it.

The unidentified witness did not tell his story before because he was afraid of retaliation, Strawbridge said.

Last August, Strawbridge and Sheriff Louis A. Robusky said they believed that three out of seven deaths ruled suicides by Dr. Behm were actually homicides.

They claimed Dr. Behm had not performed autopsies and in some cases had ruled before the sheriff's department had a chance to investigate.

At that time, Dr. Behm said there was not enough new evidence to change any of the seven rulings. He also pointed out the county does not have the necessary facilities for autopsies.

A Lower Jawbone

Fossil Of Primate Order Found In Northern India

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The discovery of a significant new fossil, perhaps related to the evolution of man, was announced today at the second International Congress of Primatology.

The announcement—by Dr. Elwyn L. Simons of Yale University and Dr. S. R. K. Chopra of Panjab University, Chandigarh, India—came in a paper prepared for delivery by Simons to the congress, attended by some 300 scientists from 15 nations.

Simons said the discovery is that of "an excellently preserved jaw of a new kind of gigantopithecus of the Middle Pliocene Age."

Sources explained that the gigantopithecus is a form of primate—the order of mammals which includes man, apes and monkeys—and said the Middle Pliocene Age dates back some five million to 10 million years.

Simons said the find appears to be "the oldest jaw recovered to date in the old world of an animal related to the great apes and man which shows pronounced reduction of front tooth size."

Sources interpreted this to indicate some humanoid tendencies.

"Even if it is not related to any later primates other than the Chinese gigantopithecus, the new Indian discovery is important because fossils—whether of ape or human affinity—are almost unknown from the Middle and Late Pliocene deposits of the old world," Simons said in a statement.

He also said that the find is "the most complete mandible, or lower jawbone, of an ape found in Europe or Asia in tertiary rocks since 1876."

Children Of Boston Get Free Ice Cream

BOSTON (AP) — The children of Boston will get their free July 4th ice cream once again this year, says the Boston City Council.

John D. Warner, city park commissioner, recently suggested that the $11,000 appropriated annually to supply the ice cream at 160 parks and playgrounds might better be used for trips to museums and beaches.

"To take away ice cream from the kids on the Fourth, that's ridiculous," said Councillor Joseph F. Timilty Monday as the council approved a motion to request Mayor Kevin H. White to ignore Warner's proposal.

It Just Didn't Work

CARROLLTON, Ky. (AP) — State Trooper Jerry Keither stopped a motorist on Interstate 71 south of Cincinnati Monday after radar clocked his auto at well over the legal limit. When Keith went up to the car, the motorist, shaking his head sadly, pointed toward his control panel. And there, was a new $30 radar detection device.

Kindergarten Set For City Schools

Plans for launching a kindergarten program in East Liverpool schools in 1969 were approved by the board of education at a meeting Monday night.

William Blair, board member, reported that following many meetings with residents interested in a kindergarten "and much study," he recommended the board include a pre - first grade program in 1969-70.

The board approved the recommendation.

A GROUP headed by Mrs. Robert Gessford and Mrs. Jon Bentley had requested a kindergarten program on a limited basis for 1968-69, but was advised by the administrators and the board funds were not available.

Blair expressed appreciation to Mrs. Vincent Laneve, Mrs. George Fletcher, Mrs. Avenella Andrews, Mrs. Ruth Lorah, Mrs. Gessford and Mrs. Bentley for "their help and interest in behalf of a kindergarten. they attended many meetings at our request, and helped with information and time offered."

Supt. Paul Blair said he was pleased that the board had taken the step. "It is definitely the right decision."

Samuel Brown, board president, appointed Blair chairman of a kindergarten committee, with Thomas Rodfong as a member, to continue work on establishing the program.

ROBERT BEATTY, architect for the new buildings, reported that the East Elementary was completed except for nine items, and asked that the board accept the building with the listed exceptions. Beatty said action would permit workers to begin to move equipment in place. The board accepted Beatty's recommendation.

The board authorized Beatty to readvertise for equipment that had not been accepted. Included were the audio learning centers and a truck equipped with snow removal equipment.

Bids for loose equipment for custodial supplies for the high school and elementary buildings and for the home economics department were rejected. The board approved buying these items locally from firms that could supply the different items. Beatty said there was no firm locally that could supply all of them.

Also rejected was a bid for coat racks for the coat room at the high school. The board will determine whether to buy movable racks or to build in pipes and then make a decision.

Bids accepted were IBM of Youngstown for Shorthand Listening Systems for a total of $2,934; Halsey-Walters of Cleveland for 37 teachers' high back chairs ($676); conductors chairs ($140) and two music folios ($250).

Canton Hardware Co. of Canton will supply three electric slicers for $1,380 and the Fabric and Sewing Center of East Liverpool will furnish sewing machines for $1,413.

Beatty said bids still have not been received for work benches and vises.

THE DISHES for the new buildings were changed from plain white to white with blue trim and the inscripton "East Liverpool Schools." This will cost an additional $1,117. The pattern is "Blue Spray."

In another change, the board approved carpeting for the entire library complex and for the administrative offices. It accepted a bid from Smith and Phillips for $8,115, subject to a "guarantee of normal usage."

A resolution of necessity for renovation of the Taft Elementary Building as an administration building was approved by the board. Taft will house the board of education room, offices for the board clerk, the superintendent, assistant superintendent, health and attendance officer, coordinator of foods, superintendent of buildings and grounds and the school psychologist. The board asked Beatty to prepare plans for this immediately in an effort to have it ready for September.

An hourly pay rate of $1.60, the minimum wage, or $12.80 per day, was established for substitute custodial wages effective July 1.

RESIGNATIONS of Mrs. Joan M. Doyle of Midland and David E. Thorne and Frank Moss of East Liverpool, all high school teachers, were accepted. Also, the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Poe, high school secretary was accepted.

The board hired Paul Blevins and Dennis Adkins, presently substitute teachers in the system, to replace Thorne and Moss in the summer school program.

Mrs. Joyce Sylvies of East Liverpool was transferred from the federal program to secretary of East Elementary; Mrs. Laura Chadwick was hired as secretary for North Elementary; Miss Gerri Barnett for La-Croft; Mrs. Shirley Monte for East Junior, and Mrs. Carole Hager, presently secretary for East Junior, will be secretary to the Coordinator for the Foods Service Program.

All except Mrs. Monte and Mrs. Hager will begin duties Aug. 12. Mrs. Monte and Mrs Hager will make their changes Aug. 1.

Dr. Alexander Fisher was granted permission to use Westgate School July 14 from noon to 5 p. m. for a measles clinic. There will be no charge.

SUPT. BLAIR announced that his office will not accept any resignations after July 10 without sufficient replacements for these positions. He said last year he did, and when it was time for school to open some of the positions were vacant.

He also announced that schools will be closed on July 5 to give custodians and teachers a long weekend.

It was announced the City Veterans Council has offered to supply the school district with new flags. James Cregar of the council will be contacted concerning the number of flags.

Rodfong announced that a meeting will be held July 9 for the complaintants concerning the assessments for the Maine Blvd. sewer.

Brown then read a letter stating that the board had two weeks after receiving notice of the assessment to file a complaint. He said no such notice had been received by the board of education. A telephone call had been received saying the assessment to the board of education would exceed $3,900, but no official notice has as yet been received. However, Beatty and the board will be represented at the July 9 meeting.

William Blair asked the board to consider creating a public relations position. He said, I feel in a school system the size of ours we need someone to report all events every day, and to keep the news media informed as to what is being done."

He also said he had not had a chance to study the insurance program throughly, but feels that after the new buildings are completed a complete appraisal should be made and insurance reviewed.

Here's Real Scoop; Navy Serves Cones

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Here's a scoop. The Navy is conducting an experiment aboard the guided missile cruiser Springfield to determine the feasibility of serving ice cream in cones aboard ship.

The 30-day experiment began June 14 while the Springfield, flagship for the commander of the U.S. 2nd Fleet, was in the torrid Caribbean.

If it's successful, ships with soft-serve ice cream machines will be authorized to buy wafer cups, and ice cream cones will be available when the ships are in port.

Crash Hurts Young Driver On Freeway

A youthful motorist went to City Hospital for treatment early today after his 18 - year - old car went out of control on the Freeway and crashed into guardrails.

Ronald A. Coleman, 17, of 1050 St. Clair Ave. told police "something went wrong with the front end" of his 1950 model car about 2:12 a. m., causing it to hit the fence. The youth continued to the hospital for treatment. He was listed as "fair" with pains of the abdomen.

Officers still were investigating the mishap. Patrolman Jack Strobel said he checked the Freeway unsuccessfully for the site of the accident, but could not find any damaged guardrails. The left side of the auto was damaged, officers said.

Meanwhile, another 17 - year-old was injured in a collision between his bicycle and a panel truck Monday in Dry Alley 50 feet west of Walnut St., officers said.

James Durst of 720 Avondale St. was taken to the hospital by ambulance after the collision between his bicycle and a 1966 model truck driven by Charles D. Dickey, 60, of 1720 Clark Ave., Wellsville, and owned by the Woodbine Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. of W. 4th St.

Dickey told Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins he was driving west in Dry Alley when the boy emerged from a driveway of the Community Parking Lot and hit the side of the truck. Durst told officers he attempted to halt, but found his bicycle brake was not operating, causing him to hit the left side of the truck. Durst was treated for abrasions of the left elbow, right foot and left thigh.

Adkins said he checked the bike and confirmed it had no rear brakes. The collision damaged the right side panel of the truck and the handlebars of the bicycle.

Soloway's hands were bound behind his back with a heavy twine and "a black, pliable rubber-like object" was wrapped around the boy's neck and over his face, Deiger said.

He was not carrying any identification or money, and identification was made through several scarps of paper with telephone numbers on them which were found in his pockets, Deiger added.

Registration Dates Set At High School

Registration has been set Monday through Friday during the summer at the principal's office in East Liverpool High School for new students in grades 10-12 who have moved into the district.

The hours will be from 8 a.m to 3 p.m.

Principal Clifford Lynch pointed out that the pupils must present health records showing dates of smallpox vaccination, polio shots (Salk or Sabin) and whooping cough, tetanus and diphtheria injections.

Lynch said, "We recommend early registration so that records may be processed. No new students will be registered the opening day of school. Late registrants will be admitted on Thursday, Sept. 5."

Here's Real Scoop; Navy Serves Cones

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Here's a scoop. The Navy is conducting an experiment aboard the guided missile cruiser Springfield to determine the feasibility of serving ice cream in cones aboard ship.

The 30-day experiment began June 14 while the Springfield, flagship for the commander of the U.S. 2nd Fleet, was in the torrid Caribbean.

If it's successful, ships with soft-serve ice cream machines will be authorized to buy wafer cups, and ice cream cones will be available when the ships are in port.

Boy Drowns In Pit

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Terry Kelley, 16, of Xenia drowned Monday while swimming in a gravel pit about seven miles south of here. Three companions told officials the boy dived in the water and surfaced two or three times, then disappeared. His body was recovered about two hours later.

Crash Hurts Young Driver On Freeway

A youthful motorist went to City Hospital for treatment early today after his 18 - year - old car went out of control on the Freeway and crashed into guardrails.

Ronald A. Coleman, 17, of 1050 St. Clair Ave. told police "something went wrong with the front end" of his 1950 model car about 2:12 a. m., causing it to hit the fence. The youth continued to the hospital for treatment. He was listed as "fair" with pains of the abdomen.

Officers still were investigating the mishap. Patrolman Jack Strobel said he checked the Freeway unsuccessfully for the site of the accident, but could not find any damaged guard rails. The left side of the auto was damaged, officers said.

Meanwhile, another 17 - year-old was injured in a collision between his bicycle and a panel truck Monday in Dry Alley 50 feet west of Walnut St., officers said.

James Durst of 720 Avondale St. was taken to the hospital by ambulance after the collision between his bicycle and a 1966 model truck driven by Charles D. Dickey, 60, of 1720 Clark Ave., Wellsville, and owned by the Woodbine Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. of W. 4th St.

Dickey told Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins he was driving west in Dry Alley when the boy emerged from a driveway of the Community Parking Lot and hit the side of the truck. Durst told officers he attempted to halt, but found his bicycle brake was not operating, causing him to hit the left side of the truck. Durst was treated for abrasions of the left elbow, right foot and left thigh.

Adkins said he checked the bike and confirmed it had no rear brakes. The collision damaged the right side panel of the truck and the handlebars of the bicycle.

Ohio Youth, 15, Found Strangled

VENICE, Calif. (AP)—Police say a boy found strangled in an alley has been identified as Edward Soloway, 15, of South Euclid, Ohio.

Sgt. C. W. Deiger said the shoeless youth, wearing clean blue denim trousers and jacket, was discovered by a passerby Monday morning.

Soloway's hands were bound behind his back with a heavy twine and "a black, pliable rubber-like object" was wrapped around the boy's neck and over his face, Deiger said.

He was not carrying any identification or money, and identification was made through several scarps of paper with telephone numbers on them which were found in his pockets, Deiger added.

Oil Company Charged With Water Pollution

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Natural Resources filed a charge of contamination of Wakatomika Creek against the Reliance Oil Corp in Newark Muncipal Court Monday.

The department's division of Wildlife and the Division of Oil and Gas made an investigation after fishermen and naturalists reported oil pollution in the creek. The department said the source was an oil well operated by the Corporation near the village of Fallsburg in northeastern Licking County.

Smoke At Hills Brings Firemen

"There's a noise coming from Hills."

That was the word the radio dispatcher at the County Jail in Lisbon received at 3:30 a.m. today from Karen Smith of Lakeview Circle, Calcutta.

Sheriff's Deputy Dave Brothers found smoke issuing from an air-conditioning unit on the roof of the building at the St. Clair Plaza.

The sheriff's office called the Calcutta fire department and it sent two men and a truck. Firemen found the belt on one motor had broken and the other motor was running "hot." They disconnected the unit and notified the store manager.

"Denier" is the unit of fineness applied to silk, nylon and rayon yarn, especially with hosiery, where a length of 9,000 meters of yarn weighs one gram. Sheer stockings are usually 11 denier, while "service business-sheer" are normally 30 denier.

234 Guns Collected In Amnesty Period

NEW YORK (AP) — A month-long gun amnesty period, which began a few days prior to the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, ended Monday with city police collecting 234 guns and one bazooka shell.

The annual June amnesty period, during which the public can turn in guns without being subject to prosecution, yielded only 31 weapons in 1967.

On Nuclear Disarmament

Russian's 'Olive Branch' May Have Prickly Thorns

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Soviet Union has extended to the United States what looks on the surface like an olive branch, but it may have some prickly thorns.

Moscow has held out to Washington a possibility of agreement to stop what has been called the mad escalation of nuclear weaponry. The United States is jumping at the chance to make some progress in this field.

Progress may be possible, just as it was possible to limit nuclear testing and to achieve a nuclear nonproliferation treaty. There are huge prospective benefits for both sides in a new agreement.

Various Objectives

At the same time, the context in which the offer was extended by Moscow suggests a sort of defensive peace offensive with a number of facets and objectives.

One objective could be to increase pressure on the Americans to make concessions in Vietnam. Another could be to place the United States, before world opinion, in the role of the main obstacle to a secure peace. Yet another could be to divert attention from Communist-ruled Eastern Europe, about which Moscow, from its many pronouncements on the subject, seems enormously worried.

The United States probably will examine all possibilities while going ahead with the talks, on the theory that the Soviet Union has much to gain in scaling down the astronomical costs of the nuclear weapons race. It may take time and much talk to achieve a new agreement, but if both sides want one, it likely will be considered well worth the effort.

Barriers Ahead

The shoals ahead are clearly visible. The offer of talks on any or all aspects of disarmament was put forward last week by Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in a policy review. He blamed the world's troubles on the United States and the West and implied advance condemnation of the Americans should efforts at agreement fail.

"Experience shows," said Gromyko, "that without a resolute and constant exposure of the policy that implants militarism, it is impossible to count on the governments of capitalist powers agreeing to the solution of pressing problems, and especially disarmament."

This suggested a certain amount of Kremlin faith in the propaganda value of the proposals, which have an attractive sound to a world living in fear. Gromyko also proposed a "popular movement" in the world to "compel the opponents of disarmament to retreat before the voice of the peoples."

Vietnam Cited

Gromyko told the Soviet parliament that better U.S.-Soviet relations depend on the United States. He pointed to Vietnam as the big obstacle. He inveighed at length against West German "militarism" and Israeli "expansionism." He also put forward the offer of talks in the context of an eight-year-old Moscow blockbuster proposal for "general and complete disarmament," shrugged off by the West as unworkable and designed for propaganda purposes.

On Monday, at the signing of the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin proposed disarmament talks, to include limiting nuclear weapons and means of delivery. Like Gromyko, Kosygin attacked the United States on the Vietnam issue. He contended that Vietnam proved the need to eliminate all foreign military bases, and that U.S. accidents had proved the need to restrict flights of nuclear-armed aircraft.

Israel Assailed

As Gromyko had done, Kosygin assailed Israel and suggested that restrictions on the arms race there could be considered "only subject to the elimination of the consequences of Israeli aggression" and withdrawal of Israel from all Arab territories occupied last year.

Kosygin came up with a detailed omnibus disarmament proposal amalgamating Soviet proposals of the last two decades and adding others, including one to ban underground nuclear testing. That would make prohibition of testing complete. The 1963 agreement bans tests in space, in the air or under the sea. France and China do not subscribe to this.

Moscow Could Make Points

The offer of talks comes at a time when conversations are going on, slowly, in Paris between the Americans and North Vietnamese. If added pressure were brought to bear on Washington to make concessions there, Moscow could figure to make points with its Southeast Asian ally.

Moscow's unremitting attacks on West Germany suggest an effort to isolate that country from the United States as much as possible, perhaps to raise suspicions that deals will be made at its expense.

One might say that Moscow is taking a similar risk of arousing suspicions among the Red Chinese. But Red China is already reported on the way to testing an intercontinental ballistics missile. As for Peking's suspicions of Moscow, it hardly matters, since Soviet stock in Peking right now is about as low as it can get.

Rogers Eyes Wage Boosts

ROGERS — A request for a wage increase for street workers was discussed at a meeting of Council Monday night.

Dale Barnhouse of near Highland Ave. asked the councilman about a wage boost, which had been indicated would apply to street laborers.

Councilmen said the ordinance has not yet been prepared, but they expect to consider it when it is submitted at a meeting.

Discussion also was held on a proposed change of traffic flow on College St., Church St. and Highland Ave., requested in June by residents of the area to curb speeders.

Council said the proposal would have the effect of restricting access to certain properties, and would not be in line with legal responsibility of the village authorities. The parking area of the Christian Church, for example, could not be adequately used, it was pointed out.

Barnhouse, one of the signers of the original petition for the one - way flow, said he would "take the petition to higher safety authorities." He cited the hazard for children.

Bills totaling $380 were paid.

It was announced a request for the former village jail house has been received from the Old Pioneer Village at Canfield. Edson Walters, to whom the building was given in June by Council, has indicated the historical group may have the structure.

The finance committee submitted a proposed budget of $10,075 for 1969, an increase of about $400 over the current year.

The budget includes general fund $7,800 ($8,200 in 1968), and street funds $2,275 ($1,475 in 1968). Council approved the budget.

The next meeting will be Aug. 5.

Smoking Attacked Again By Public Health Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tobacco industry is under attack again from the U.S. Public Health Service, which says recent findings indicate heavy cigarette smoking can, on the average, shorten life more than eight years.

The PHS findings dovetailed with new recommendations by the Federal Trade Commission urging laws to ban all cigarette advertising on teltvision and radio.

Both agencies submitted their findings Monday in separate reports to Congress.

Three of the five FTC members called for the prohibition on all TV and radio advertising, but said if this wasn't done, then "cigarette advertising on television and radio should be limited as to the hours at which it may appear, the extent to which it may appear, and the types of programs on which it may appear."

The three majority FTC members, Philip Elman, Mary Gardiner Jones and James Nicholson, were joined by the remaining two commissioners, Chairman Paul Rand Dixon and A. Everettt MacIntyre, in recommending a new and tougher warning on all cigarette packages, which would also be required in all advertising.

This would read:

"Cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and may cause death from cancer and other diseases." The only warning now reads: "Caution, Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health." It is required to be shown on cigarette packages only.

The PHS report said that findings made since its original report attacking smoking in 1964 shows strong evidence that heavy smoking can reduce life expectancy by more than eight years on the average. A light smoker faces a loss of four years of life expectancy, the report stated.

In addition, the Health Service declared there is evidence of contributory links between cigarette smoking and heart disease.

There was no immediate reaction from the tobacco industry. A spokesman for the American Tobacco Institute said there would be no comment until the reports had been examined.

In the past, the tobacco industry claimed there was no cause-effect connection between cigarette smoking and disease.

The television and radio networks, which would be hard hit economically by a ban on advertising, generally declined comment pending study of the reports.

But Mutual Broadcasting System President Robert Pauley said: "Every advertiser should have the right to advertise. It should be up to the individual medium . . . I don't think it's something that should be legislated."

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Pompons For The Bride

DEAR HELOISE: When a couple gets married in our city, the cars in the wedding party are decorated with fresh flowers attached to crepe paper streamers.

Heloise

When our daughter married recently, we had to find a way to keep the florist's bill to a minimum.

You guessed it. I went to a yardage outlet, bought several yards of nylon net and made "Heloise" pompons to replace the flowers. I used colors to harmonize with the bridesmaids' gowns, and white, of course, on the bridal car.

They were both pretty and practical because they didn't dry up and get thrown away after the ceremony. After the bride and groom left on their wedding trip, everyone was welcome to an extra souvenir of the wedding.

VIVIAN CAISSE.

DEAR HELOISE: Having been in the electrical business for 54 years, I think I can help your housewives with the annoying and somewhat expensive problem of replacing burned-out light bulbs.

Most electrical power companies try to maintain a constant voltage of 120 to houses, but due to unavoidable fluctuations of usage, the voltage varies from about 118 to 124.

Since most of the light bulbs that stores sell are rated at 120 volts, the fluctuating voltage burns them out sooner than they are supposed to.

For a considerable length of time I have been using 125-volt light bulbs and they last longer. These may be purchased at electrical supply houses and some stores. Or any store can order them for you.

Bulbs rated as 120 to 130 will also last longer than the usual bulbs with 120 volts rating.

You will be surprised at the results.

BENJ. ZARIN.

DEAR HELOISE: My outside fish pond is partially under a tree that constantly drops leaves.

To save cleaning the pool so often, I stretch chicken wire over the pool. (This keeps out the dogs, cats and neighbor children.) Then over the wire, I lay a piece of nylon net weighed with a few stones. It can be easily lifted off and the leaves disposed of without having to clean the pool or disturb the fish.

MRS. L. ROBERSON.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: One real timesaver I've found is to just go ahead and clip what I want to save from the newspaper and let hubby "howl"!

Maybe he'll get used to it?

ELAINE.

DEAR HELOISE: With vacation time fast approaching I'd like to pass along something I tried last summer and will continue doing from now on . . .

When traveling by car we never seemed to find an empty picnic table when the hunger pangs hit. So usually ended up by spreading our lunch on the ground.

Then I thought of carrying along a folding TV tray. When we got hungry, we stopped and set up the tray, put the sandwich makings and fruit on it and had a surface to work on.

Then we ate while walking around and getting some much needed exercise after sitting in the car for hours.

MRS. T. GRIFFITH.

Now, aren't you the greatest!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I buy a watermelon, I cut it in half CROSSWISE.

I cut the ends off — but not into the red — then I stand it upright in a soup bowl.

This saves space in the refrigerator, and the juice will drip into the bowl instead of onto other food in the refrigerator.

Mrs. Keiffer was found dead Friday in her home.

The men charged, Joseph D. Turza, 28, of Lorain and Edward P. Koester, 26, of Elyria, are held without bond in Lorain County Jail for arraignment today.

Recovers Excess Profits

Federal Contract Board Awaits Bill For Renewal

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The authority of the Renegotiation Board, only independent government agency empowered to recover excess profits on defense and space contracts, expired this week while a bill to renew it remained tabled in the Senate Finance Committee.

Since its organization 17 years ago, the Renegotiation Board has recovered $952 million in excess profits, and claims that its existence has spurred contractors to voluntarly return another $1.3 billion.

The board did not go out of business when its authorization act expired Sunday midnight. Chairman Lawrence E. Hartwig said it has enough of a work backlog to keep it operable for another two years.

And appropriations voted by Congress for the fiscal year that started Monday provides funds for the board until at least next summer.

However, if the Renegotiation Act is not renewed, profits realized by defense and space contractors after June 30 would not be subject to renegotiation—the process by which the federal government retrieves excess payments.

The House approved and sent to the Senate on May 27 a bill which would renew the Renegotiation Act for three years. The Senate Finance Committee discussed the measure in executive session June 12 then set it aside, said a committee staff member, until "additional information" was gathered.

The committee spokesman said Monday that much of the information, which concerned exemptions from the act's jurisdiction, had been obtained but that the committee probably couldn't resume work on the bill until next week. If the act is renewed, he said, it would be retroactive to June 30.

"As long as the act is renewed soon and as long as that renewal is retroactive, we should be okay," said Chairman Hartwig in an interview.

The Renegotiation Board was set up under the Renegotiation Act of 1951 for two years to examine profits from the Korean War. The act has been renewed seven times, each time for two years.

Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., who led a House fight this year to renew and strengthen the board, has estimated that for every dollar the board has spent, it has returned $18 to the Treasury.

As it was constituted under the old act, the board has jurisdiction over companies which do in excess of $1 million in renegotiable sales a year to the Defense Department, Army, Navy, Air Force, Maritime Administration, General Services Administration, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Atomic Energy Commission and Federal Aviation Agency.

Oak Glen Senior Finishes High In Statewide Test

A Chester youth was one of the top scorers in a recent American Legion Boys State Civil Service test.

He is Robert Alan Milner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Milner of 421 Indiana Ave., a senior at Oak Glen High School.

Morris Schiff, West Virginia representative of the U.S. Civil Service Commission who administered the test to more than 300 youths at Jackson's Mill, said Milner finished in the top seven.

The test consisted of questions on the U.S. Constitution and government.

The Oak Glen student received a Certificate of Merit signed by the chairman of the Civil Service Commission, the state Legion commander and the chief counselor of Boys State.

Area Man Plans Ministry Career

William McKnight Jr. of Chester plans to enter the Cincinnati Bible Seminary in the fall to study for the ministry, the first candidate for the ministery from the Chester First Christian Church since 1930.

Son of William McKnight of 512 Knowles Alley, Chester, he is a member of the church and a 1966 graduate of Oak Glen High School. He has had two years study at the West Liberty College branch in Weirton.

He is the first candidate for the ministry from the church since Hugh H. Brown was graduated from the Cincinnati seminary 38 years ago. Brown is now a minister of visitation at Anaheim, Calif.

Mimi-Building

HAPPY JACK, Ariz. (AP) — This northern Arizona lumbering community boasts what may be the smallest federal building in the nation — and probably the only "homemade" one in existence. After fire destroyed the general store and post office in December 1966, residents pitched in and built a new 9-by-14-foot building to serve as a post office.

120 Are Booked At County Jail

LISBON — The County Jail booked 120 prisoners in June in addition to 32 already confined June 1.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan reports jail cooks served 4,192 meals last month at a cost of $1,495.81, making the average daily food cost $1.07 per prisoner. There were 258 visits at the jail.

The sheriff said 104 prisoners were released during the month and seven were taken to state institutions. Deputies took three mental patients to state hospitals.

Deputies served 325 papers and handled 5,008 radio transmissions and 1,638 phone calls at the jail. Fees totaling $1,217 were collected. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 37 sets of fox feet and ears for the $4 bounty in June.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The authority of the Renegotiation Board, only independent government agency empowered to recover excess profits on defense and space contracts, expired this week while a bill to renew it remained tabled in the Senate Finance Committee.

Since its organization 17 years ago, the Renegotiation Board has recovered $952 million in excess profits, and claims that its existence has spurred contractors to voluntarly return another $1.3 billion.

The board did not go out of business when its authorization act expired Sunday midnight. Chairman Lawrence E. Hartwig said it has enough of a work backlog to keep it operable for another two years.

And appropriations voted by Congress for the fiscal year that started Monday provides funds for the board until at least next summer.

However, if the Renegotiation Act is not renewed, profits realized by defense and space contractors after June 30 would not be subject to renegotiation—the process by which the federal government retrieves excess payments.

The House approved and sent to the Senate on May 27 a bill which would renew the Renegotiation Act for three years. The Senate Finance Committee discussed the measure in executive session June 12 then set it aside, said a committee staff member, until "additional information" was gathered.

The committee spokesman said Monday that much of the information, which concerned exemptions from the act's jurisdiction, had been obtained but that the committee probably couldn't resume work on the bill until next week. If the act is renewed, he said, it would be retroactive to June 30.

"As long as the act is renewed soon and as long as that renewal is retroactive, we should be okay," said Chairman Hartwig in an interview.

The Renegotiation Board was set up under the Renegotiation Act of 1951 for two years to examine profits from the Korean War. The act has been renewed seven times, each time for two years.

Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., who led a House fight this year to renew and strengthen the board, has estimated that for every dollar the board has spent, it has returned $18 to the Treasury.

As it was constituted under the old act, the board has jurisdiction over companies which do in excess of $1 million in renegotiable sales a year to the Defense Department, Army, Navy, Air Force, Maritime Administration, General Services Administration, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Atomic Energy Commission and Federal Aviation Agency.

Oak Glen Senior Finishes High In Statewide Test

A Chester youth was one of the top scorers in a recent American Legion Boys State Civil Service test.

He is Robert Alan Milner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Milner of 421 Indiana Ave., a senior at Oak Glen High School.

Morris Schiff, West Virginia representative of the U.S. Civil Service Commission who administered the test to more than 300 youths at Jackson's Mill, said Milner finished in the top seven.

The test consisted of questions on the U.S. Constitution and government.

The Oak Glen student received a Certificate of Merit signed by the chairman of the Civil Service Commission, the state Legion commander and the chief counselor of Boys State.

Area Man Plans Ministry Career

William McKnight Jr. of Chester plans to enter the Cincinnati Bible Seminary in the fall to study for the ministry, the first candidate for the ministery from the Chester First Christian Church since 1930.

Son of William McKnight of 512 Knowles Alley, Chester, he is a member of the church and a 1966 graduate of Oak Glen High School. He has had two years study at the West Liberty College branch in Weirton.

He is the first candidate for the ministry from the church since Hugh H. Brown was graduated from the Cincinnati seminary 38 years ago. Brown is now a minister of visitation at Anaheim, Calif.

120 Are Booked At County Jail

LISBON — The County Jail booked 120 prisoners in June in addition to 32 already confined June 1.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan reports jail cooks served 4,192 meals last month at a cost of $1,495.81, making the average daily food cost $1.07 per prisoner. There were 258 visits at the jail.

The sheriff said 104 prisoners were released during the month and seven were taken to state institutions. Deputies took three mental patients to state hospitals.

Deputies served 325 papers and handled 5,008 radio transmissions and 1,638 phone calls at the jail. Fees totaling $1,217 were collected. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 37 sets of fox feet and ears for the $4 bounty in June.

Mimi-Building

HAPPY JACK, Ariz. (AP)—This northern Arizona lumbering community boasts what may be the smallest federal building in the nation — and probably the only "homemade" one in existence. After fire destroyed the general store and post office in December 1966, residents pitched in and built a new 9-by-14-foot building to serve as a post office.

My family and I wish to express our sincere thanks to the voters of Grant District and to all of our friends and relatives who worked so hard and tirelessly for me in my campaign for Sheriff of Hancock County in the Primary election of May 14.

Marine Losses Higher Than Other Branches

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Marines are taking much heavier casualties proportionately than other U.S. armed services in the Vietnam war.

Marines have suffered about one-third of the combat killed and wounded although numbering less than 14 per cent of the total 615,000-man U.S. troop commitment in Southeast Asia.

The Army has lost more dead and wounded than the Marines —but has more than four times as many men involved in the war.

The Air Force and Navy have been hit lightly compared with the Marines and Army troops which carry the brunt of the ground war.

Pentagon officials said the Marines have a bigger slice of their force available for battle than the Army because they are furnished supply and other support by the Navy and, to some extent, by the Army.

The Army supports its own combat troops, as well as manning huge depots and other rear echelon facilities.

As of June 22, the United States had lost 25,367 killed in combat and 157,517 wounded.

The Marines suffered 8,445, or 33 per cent, killed and 55,480, or 35 per cent, wounded.

The Army sustained 15,545, 61 per cent, of the battle deaths and 94,984, or 60 per cent, of the wounded.

The roughly 60 per cent share of total U.S. casualties borne by the Army is very close to the Army's 59.5 per cent of the total U.S. commitment in Vietnam, Thailand and on ships offshore.

The Army accounts for 356,000 men in Vietnam, plus about 10,000 in Thailand.

The 84,000 Marines in Vietnam represent about 13.6 per cent of the total U.S. armed forces in Southeast Asia. Thus, their proportion of casualties is more than twice their representation in the war.

The Air Force, with 61,000 men in Vietnam and Thailand, has lost 561, or 2 per cent-plus of the war's combat dead and 1,995, or 1 per cent-plus of the wounded total.

The over-all Air Force contingent totals 15.6 per cent of the U.S. military force in Southeast Asia.

Only a small fraction of the Air Force limit sees combat. The vast majority maintain and supply the aircraft at their bases.

The Navy, with 68,000 men in Vietnam or operating offshore, has lost 816 killed. This is somewhat more than 3 per cent of the U.S. total. Its wounded number 5,058, also a 3 per cent slice of the over-all total.

Some of the Navy dead were pilots in the air war, but most died in surface actions, such as river patrols.

Maritime Union Ends Brief Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Maritime Union has ended its three-day strike, which idled 128 American-flag ships, with an agreement calling for a five per cent increase in base wages and 15 more vacation days.

Theodore W. Kheel, arbitrator under the contract between the seaman's union and two employer groups, announced the settlement Monday and said, "The strike shall end immediately."

The strike by the 55,000-member AFL-CIO Union, which represents unlicensed seamen, began at 12:01 a.m. Saturday on the East, West and Gulf coasts.

Kheel, announcing the agreement after a two-hour meeting with union and management representatives, said the contract improvements would be retroactive to June 16.

The base pay of an ablebodied seaman has been $423 a month with overtime generally increasing that by 50 per cent. Present vacation time is 60 days a year.

Kheel said "additional issues in the controversy" will be presented to him for arbitration and he promised to hold hearings on them "at a very early date."

Sen. Dirksen Will Support Abe Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — An effort by 19 Republican senators to block President Johnson's two Supreme Court appointments has been weakened by a pledge from Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen to vote for confirmation.

Dirksen says he will support the appointment of Abe Fortas as Chief Justice of the United States and Homer Thornberry as an associate Supreme Court justice.

"The nominations were made in good faith, in conformity with the Constitution, the men nominated are qualified, and they have been found to be fit by the American Bar Association," Dirksen said Monday.

He also told newsmen he believes the Senate has the two-thirds vote needed to cut off a filibuster against the confirmations threatened by at least two Republican Senators.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., a leader of the GOP drive against the appointments, said he was ready to filibuster and Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., announced Monday he also is prepared for one.

Thurmond said Fortas has a reputation "as a fixer" and as an associate justice has aligned himself with "the radical wing of the court."

He also said he believes there was collusion by President Johnson and retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren to keep the next president from naming Warren's successor.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, meanwhile, announced it will begin public hearings July 11 on the nominations and will question Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark on whether a vacancy actually exists on the court.

The question was raised in the committee last week on the contention that Warren submitted his retirement at the pleasure of the President and Johnson said he would accept it when a successor had been confirmed by the Senate.

Archimedes, describing the effectiveness of the lever, supposedly said, "Give me the place to stand, and I will move the world." Runaway Rig Guided To Woods By Driver

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — A truck driver used his tractor Monday to guide an escaped trailer loaded with gasoline over a half-mile stretch of curving highway before finally letting it crash in an unpopulated, wooded area along Lake Michigan.

The truck exploded and flames, brought under control in about two hours, could be seen at least five miles away, witnesses said. No one was injured.

Driver Doug McDougal, hauling gasoline for service stations in nearby Petoskey, said he felt the trailer, with 4,400 gallons of gasoline, break loose.

Maneuvering the tractor to prevent the load from going out of control along the downgrade on U.S. 131, McDougal said, he passed several motorists from the opposite direction, a factory and a nuclear power plant.

Finally, he said, he gunned the engine of his tractor, allowing the trailer to shoot off into the woods.

Fidel Issues Own Version Of Che Diary

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro says Bolivia's president and the commander of its armed forces ordered Cuban revolutionary leader Ernesto "Che" Guevara assassinated after he was captured and that two drunken soldiers did the job.

In an introduction to the Cuban version of Guevara's Bolivian war diary, Castro also claimed that Bolivia's top Communist, Mario Monje, sabotaged Guevara's guerrilla campaign by intercepting "well trained militant Communists who were going in to join the guerrillas."

Guevara's diary was seized by Bolivian army authorities after his capture last October during an abortive campaign to create what he described as a "new Vietnam" in Latin America, with Bolivia as the starting point.

Cuban officials said they got hold of photostatic copies of the diary without paying for them but did not explain how. There was speculation that photostats might have been obtained through Bolivian army sources.

Castro's government began distributing its version of the diary free Monday.

In La Paz, Bolivian President Rene Barrientos charged that the Cuban book was fictional and false. He said it was contrived by Cuba's Communist regime to bolster public morale.

Rights Leader Suggests Negro Political Party

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Civil rights leader Wilfred T. Ussery says Negroes "may find they're going 100 miles-an-hour in the wrong direction."

And ways of reversing this trend may be a key item on the agenda of the five-day national convention of the Congress of Racial Equality opening Wednesday, said Ussery, the organization's national chairman.

The 39-year-old official from San Francisco said in an interview Monday that more jobs and better educations for Negroes alone will not end racial injustice.

"Because 5 per cent of the households control over 80 per cent of the wealth," Ussery said, "we are only destined to be more sophisticated slaves or drones in the American military industrial complex regardless of how much education we get."

Negro politicians have not been responsive to the needs of black communities because they were not elected by black people, he added.

"It's entirely possible that we could have a black political party responsible to the black community and not a melting pot constituency," Ussery said.

New Plea Made In Cancer Drive

With East Liverpool the only area in Columbiana County short of its goal, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown, local chairman, today called on residents who have not yet done so to send in contributions for the benefit of the Cancer Crusade.

The collection is about $2,000 under that of last year.

"If we are to carry on the work in the county and at our own level in East Liverpool, we must meet our fair share. Cancer is still one of the most dreaded diseases . . ."

Brown announced that American Legion Post 374 has turned in $322 as the result of a roadblock held Saturday on Pennsylvania Ave. James Cregar was in charge of the solicitation, assisted by members of the post and the Auxiliary.

The chairman lauded the post for its efforts, pointing out that "over the years members have been of tremendous help to the Cancer Society in all of its crusades."

Maritime Union Ends Brief Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Maritime Union has ended its three-day strike, which idled 128 American-flag ships, with an agreement calling for a five per cent increase in base wages and 15 more vacation days.

Theodore W. Kheel, arbitrator under the contract between the seaman's union and two employer groups, announced the settlement Monday and said, "The strike shall end immediately."

The strike by the 55,000-member AFL-CIO Union, which represents unlicensed seamen, began at 12:01 a.m. Saturday on the East, West and Gulf coasts.

Kheel, announcing the agreement after a two-hour meeting with union and management representatives, said the contract improvements would be retroactive to June 16.

The base pay of an ablebodied seaman has been $423 a month with overtime generally increasing that by 50 per cent. Present vacation time is 60 days a year.

Kheel said "additional issues in the controversy" will be presented to him for arbitration and he promised to hold hearings on them "at a very early date."

ANN LANDERS

Gal Likes Independence

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Am I a nut? Frankly, I feel great. I'm not even ashamed. All my friends think I'm an oddball because I'm 29 and not married. They swear I'm putting on a brave front to hide my misery.

I enjoy men, especially the high-voltage, conversational type. I like a fast game of tennis with a first-rate male player. I love to dance. I'm not immune to a physically attractive man who has a brain to go along with the brawn. And I've even been "involved" with a few gentlemen.

But the thought of a double harness for life is most unappealing. No thanks.

I have an excellent job and I enjoy my work. I still live with my parents (which many friends consider odd, but we get along famously and I conduct my life with no interference whatever. Why should I trade this for housework, squalling kids, whooping cough shots, diapers, mortgages, and maybe even a two-timer or an alcoholic?

I'm not knocking marriage, Ann. For those who need it, it's wonderful. But why do people think there's something strange about a woman who doesn't want it? I wish my friends would quit pushing. I'm a contented gal.

Can you think of anything that would change my mind?—PEACE-LOVING PEARL.

Woman Hater

Dear Ann: You're a menace to society. The morals of our country have never been in worse shape. If ever we needed a figure of authority in family life it's now. Yet you take every opportunity to knock down the male as head of the house and make him look foolish and weak.

American men are losing ground every day. Women own most of the property, most of the securities and most of the real estate. They run everything, including the government. (The wives of the country's leaders make the decisions and tell them what to do.)

What we need is an advice columnist who will tell women to stop being so bossy — to sit back and keep their mouths shut. Of course you won't print this letter because you have no answer. — ONE OF THE OPPRESSED.

Dear One: I never made the statement that women are superior to men nor did I say they were smarter. But come to think of it, did you ever hear of a woman marrying a dumb man for his shape?

Fireproof Smokes

Dear Ann: I want to help the woman who wrote that she's a nervous wreck because her husband insists on smoking in bed. She said he fell asleep with a cigarette in his hand the other evening and burned a hole in the carpet.

I have a solution for this problem. It could save some lives. Please print it.

Cigarette smokers should train themselves to hold the cigarette between the third and fourth fingers. It can never drop and anyone who falls asleep with a cigarette between the third and fourth fingers will wake up fast — as soon as the cigarette burns down that far. — MRS. D. R. Z.

Dear Mrs.: I checked out your theory with my cigarette-smoking friends and they say you are right. Many thanks.

Right Solution

Dear Ann: If you were 21, would you marry a young fellow who has no bank account, a few small debts, a mother to look after, a very good job, lots of ambition and unlimited faith in the future?—UNDECIDED.

-:-

Dear Undecided: I did—and today we are celebrating our 29th wedding anniversary.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Program Based On Independence

An "Independence Day" program was presented during the meeting Friday of the Golden Age Club of the Chester area in the Westminster United Presbyterian Church. Group singing was held.

Readings were presented by Harry Davis, Mrs. Ruth Wolfe and Mrs. Milla Craig. Devotions were led by Lester Lutton.

Final plans were made for a chartered bus trip to the Arts and Crafts Festival in Ripley, W. Va. July 5. The bus will depart from the church at 7 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis were appointed the social committee for July. Mrs. Etta Dickey was enrolled as a new member. Mrs. Dickey received the corsage. Bouquets were given Miss Rose Prosser and Mrs. Mary Booher.

Members' birthdays in April, May and June were celebrated. Refreshments were served 41 by Miss Prosser and committee.

The next meeting will be July 12 in the church.

More Land Owners Join In Conservation

LISBON — The board of supervisors of the Columbiana Soil and Water Conservation District accepted applications of four land owners during June.

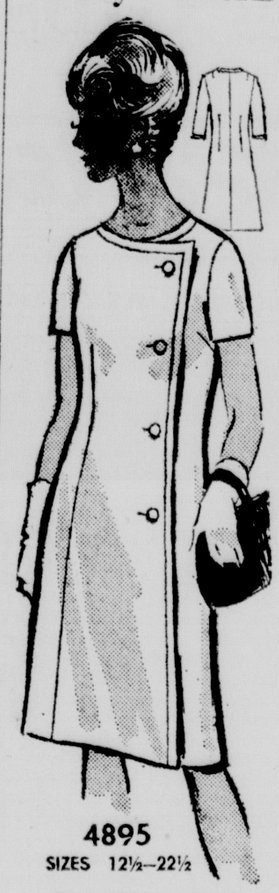

New cooperators are Glenn Hoopes, Salem RD 1, 120 acres in Butler Township; Delmer A. Little and Ivan L. Immel, both of East Rochester, 80 acres in west and 77 acres in Hanover, respectively, and George S. Eckard, Lisbon RD 3, 64 acres in Elkrun.

Not So Secure

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP) — More than $10,000 was taken from a supposedly burglarproof filing cabinet in the security room of the Douglas police headquarters. Police Chief Percy Bowden said he had been in the habit of keeping large amounts of his money in the cabinet for 25 years.

The velocity of sound increases about one second for each degree of Fahrenheit temperature rise. Its speed at 32 degrees is generally placed at about 1,088 feet per second.

Pill Taking Popular

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — South Africans consume 2,400,000 pills each year, said Dr. Gerald Machanic in an article in the South African Nursing Journal. Of these about one million are pain killers.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Pre-Teens Need Information

Adolescence is generally admitted to be a stormy time. It is characterized by rebellion against the authority of parents and of society, emotional confusion and a desire to experiment with new ideas which may include driving a gasoline - powered vehicle, the use of various drugs and/or some form of sexual stimulation. How well your child comes through this period will depend in part on how well you have prepared him for it and in part on how understanding you can bring yourself to be.

Dr. Brandstadt

EVERY TEEN-AGER is the product of what has gone on in his life since earliest childhood. No one is in a better position to know a child's background than a sympathetic parent who has kept the youngster's confidence by maintaining mutual respect.

-:-

ONE OF the greatest worries confronting the budding adolescent is his physical difference from the members of his own age group. It is estimated that about 5 per cent of pubescent boys have tenderness and or enlargement of their breasts. A similar number of girls fall way behind their classmates in breast development or in the onset of their menstrual periods. Some boys are painfully short and some girls are painfully tall.

-:-

THESE VARIATIONS in teenagers who have no physical illness can cause them untold agony unless they can be persuaded that these differences fall within a normal range. In many cases, as adolescence progresses the variations fall more nearly into line with the general average but, even if they don't, they should be recognized for what they are. Often an examination by the family physician with neither parent present, followed by a large dose of reassurance, will give the youngster the perspective he needs and will relieve his groundless worries.

Q—My daughter, 7, has just recovered from trench mouth. How did she contract it? Is it a viral or bacterial infection?

A.—Most persons who develop this disease have neglected to brush their teeth regularly and to maintain good oral hygiene. It is believed to be a bacterial infection but this has not been proved. Direct contact (kissing) and indirect contact (contaminated eating utensils) have not been shown to spread the disease.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Dinner Meeting Slated For District Cattlemen

LISBON — An evening dinner meeting for area cattle feeders and guests will be held at 6 p.m. July 11 at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center at Wooster.

Paul H. Gipp, Columbiana County extension agent for agriculture, said county feeders planning to attend should make dinner reservations immediately through Dr. Charles M. Martin at the Wooster center.

Everyone is invited, without reservations, to the program afterward. It will consist of a tour of the new beef research facilities and talks on the beef outlook.

Mrs. Daryl Kleck of Delta, president of the Ohio Cow Belles Association, will be present to help organize a Wooster area chapter.

1st-Inning Wild Pitch Breaks Gibson's Scoreless String

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

This column does not mean I'm in a particularly poor frame of mind, it's just a list of irritations that we'd all be better off without:

Girls (and women) who wear hair curlers in public.

Television commercials.

Four-way stop signs.

Radio commercials.

Four-way red lights.

Tiny Tim.

Baseball announcers who never give the score.

People who ask for lots of pre-game publicity and then never turn in the results.

Baseball announcers who root too much for their team.

People who drive at 25 mph on the open highway.

Air conditioning that's too cold.

People who honk, especially when you're trying to sleep.

Unsigned letters.

Dogs that bark in the middle of the night.

Anonymous phone calls.

Girls (and women) who are too fat to wear shorts, but do any way.

People who tell me about something that they probably read in this column first and forgot where they read it.

Radio stations that cut off the end of a record to squeeze in another commercial.

Hamburgers on a cold bun.

Warts.

People who run red lights.

Plucked eyebrows.

Junk mail.

People who try to sell you something over the telephone.

People who call in scores only when their team wins.

Cardinal Hurler Wins Game 5-1

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

After Don Drysdale pitched a major league record six straight shutouts and 58 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings, everyone wondered what he could do for an encore.

He could have gotten the hit that halted Bob Gibson's march toward his records, but he didn't. He could have beaten Gibson when the two clashed Monday night, but he didn't.

Gibson, on the other hand, didn't reach the records, allowing a first-inning run on a wild pitch in St. Louis' 5-1 victory over Los Angeles.

"I won the game; I'm not disappointed at all," said Gibson, the Cardinal ace who had hurled five straight shutouts and amassed 47 innings of scoreless pitching.

It didn't take long for Gibson to end the suspense for 54,157 fans at Dodger Stadium, including 10,000 straight A high school students and 3,000 Girl Scouts.

After retiring the first two Dodgers in the first inning, he gave up singles to Len Gabrielson and Tom Haller and then with Ron Fairly at bat, he bounced a pitch past catcher John Edwards for his third wild pitch of the season. Gabrielson scored easily.

"It was all my fault," Gibson said. "It was a wild fast ball."

"It's too bad the way it happened; he's a great pitcher," commented Drysdale, who was knocked out of the game in the seventh inning.

Gibson, however, was around at the finish and picked up his seventh straight victory for a 105 record. Drysdale also is 10-5. Gibson lowered his earned run average slightly to 1.13 while Drysdale's ERA rose to 1.46.

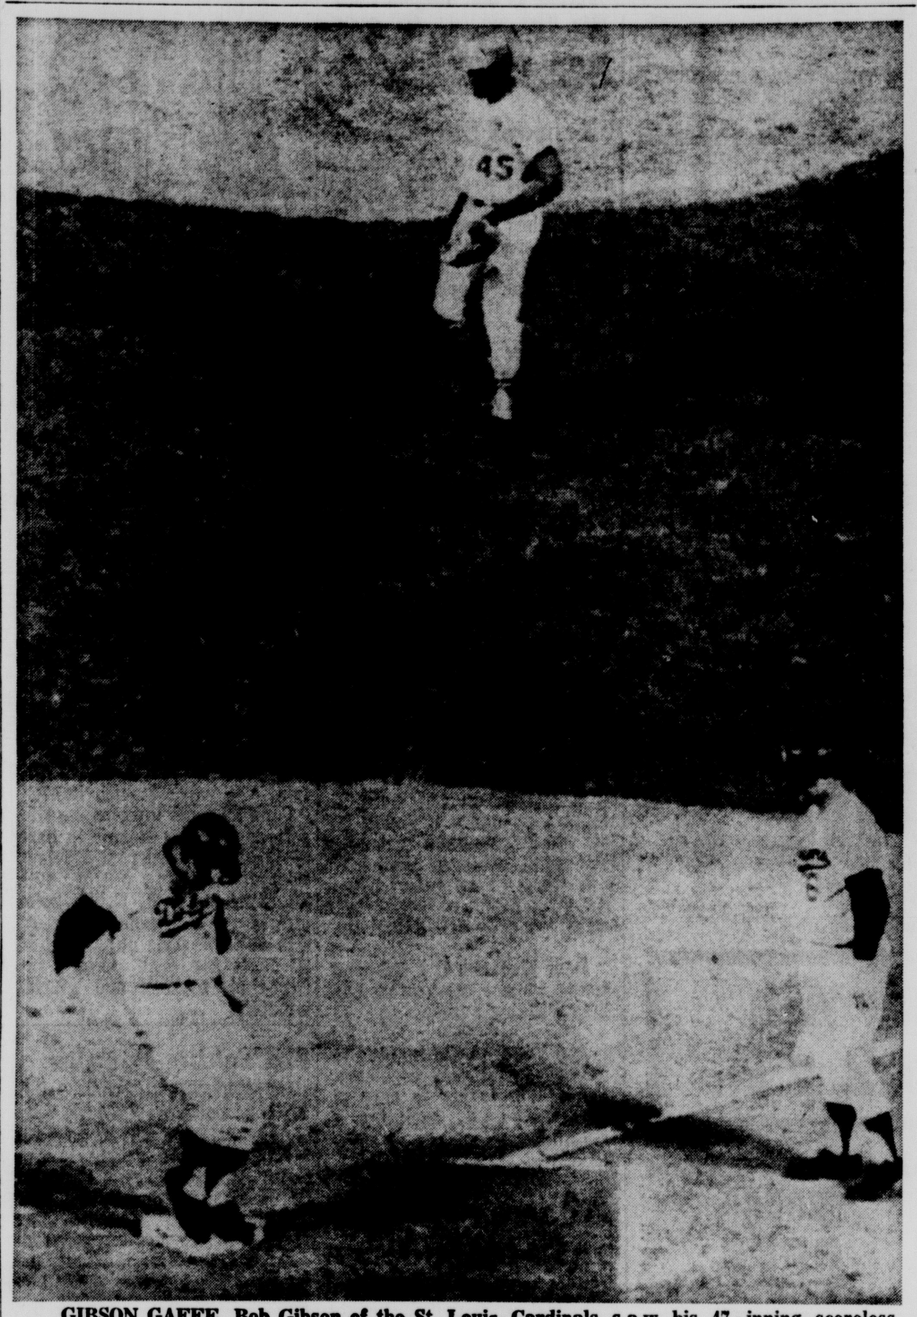

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta defeated San Francisco 5-1, Philadelphia topped Chicago 6-4 and Cincinnati edged Houston 3-2 in 11 innings.

The Cardinals promptly tied the Dodgers on Julian Javier's second-inning sacrifice fly, then went ahead in the sixth on another sacrifice fly, this one by Orlando Cepeda. Gibson drove in a run with an infield out in the three-run seventh.

Clete Boyer led Atlanta past San Francisco. He doubled and scored in the third inning, then singled across a run in the sixth. Relief pitcher Cecil Upshaw rescued starter Phil Niekro in the eighth inning and preserved the Brave victory.

Reliever John Boozer got the Phillies out of trouble in the ninth and saved the victory for Chris Short, who at one stretch retired 15 straight Cubs. Boozer retired Glenn Beckert on a bases-loaded game-ending grounder after Willie Smith singled home two runs against Gary Wagner.

Tommy Helms sent Tony Perez home with the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the 11th inning for Cincinnati's victory over Houston. Perez walked, stole second and continued to third on John Bateman's wild throw. The Astros' Dave Giusti blanked the Reds on three hits until the ninth when they rallied for two runs and a tie.

Ashe Tops Newcombe

Americans Advance 4 To Wimbledon Quarters

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The United States Davis Cup trio—Arthur Ashe, Clark Graebner and Coach Dennis Ralston—are storming on in the hunt for the Wimbledon title.

"I'm a great believer in togetherness," said Donald Dell, the Davis Cup team's nonplaying captain from Bethesda, Md. "Did you see our boys applauding when Ashe was beating John Newcombe out there? Clark Graebner, Charlie Pasarell and Dennis Ralston were all at the side of the court leading the cheers.

"That is the way to build up team spirit. And I hope team spirit is going to win the Davis Cup back for the United States."

Ashe and Graebner both vanquished professionals Monday to reach the quarter-finals. Ashe, of Richmond, Va., downed Newcombe, the defending champion, 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 1-6, 6-3. Graebner, from New York City, upset Australia's Fred Stolle 6-1, 7-5, 7-5.

Ralston, from Bakersfield, Calif., who can no longer play on the Davis Cup team because he's a professional, swept aside Alexander Metreveli of Russia 6-3, 7-5, 6-2.

A fourth American went into the quarter-finals—professional Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, who vanquished Bob Hewitt of South Africa 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

The experts were trying to remember when four Americans last made the final eight of Wimbledon. It's so far back nobody could fix the year from memory.

Today Ashe had to play Tom Okker, the Dutch amateur who has already cleaned up the South African and Italian titles this year.

Graebner faced Ray Moore of South Africa in the semifinals. Moore—the man who beat Spanish pro Andres Gimeno—eliminated Tom Edlefsen of Berkeley, Calif., in a five setter Monday.

Ralston met Australian pro Rod Laver, top favorite for the title.

Al Kaline Returns, Sparks 5-1 Tiger Win

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Asscoiated Press Sports Writer

Who's on first? Would you believe Al Kaline?

Believe it or not, there was the Detroit slugger, back from five weeks on the disabled list with a broken right arm, trotting out to first base Monday night and looking for all the world like a latter-day Mickey Mantle.

And there was Kaline, backbone of the Tigers' attack for 16 years, ripping a single to left in the sixth inning to score Mickey Stanley with the tie-breaking run in a 5-1 victory over the California Angels.

The Angels didn't wait long to test the outfielder-turned-first baseman. Vic Davalillo, the leadoff batter, grounded to Kaline, who field the ball and flipped to pitcher Mickey Lolich covering the bag.

Kaline later caught a foul pop and handled three throws from infielders but was charged with an error when he took his foot off the bag on a throw from third baseman Dick Tracewski.

Elsewhere in the American League, Cleveland tripped Minnesota 4-1, the Chicago White Sox downed Baltimore 6-3, Boston beat Oakland 3-0 and Washington turned back the New York Yankees 3-1.

The 33-year-old Kaline played third base for part of one game in 1961 and spent the rest of his career in the outfield. He suffered a broken arm when struck by a pitch in a game at Oakland May 25 and was reactivated Mondy afternoon.

Manager Mayo Smith told him an hour before game time that he'd be playing first, a move Smith had been considering for some time.

Kaline was not the only standout as the high-flying Tigers kept their American League lead at 7½ games over Cleveland. Catcher Bill Freehan cracked his 10th and 11th homers, Tracewski hit his second and Lolich, the erratic lefty, hurled a five-hitter and fanned 14, most by a Detroit pitcher this season.

Lou Johnson, the happy-go-lucky outfielder acquired last week from the Chicago Cub, blasted two homers and Sam McDowell fanned 11 Twins as Cleveland beat Minnesota.

McDowell yielded a leadoff double to Cesar Tovar, then pitched hitless ball until the eighth, when he needed help from Stan Williams after Tony Oliva's run-scoring single.

Buddy Bradford, a White Sox outfielder, had a two-homer night against Baltimore. He cracked his third of the season to ignite a four-run first inning after Luis Aparico reached on an error, and hit another in the fifth.

Aparicio also homered, his third, while Brooks Robinson and Curt Blefary connected for the Orioles. The White Sox capped the opening inning with a double steal on which Ken Berry swiped home while Bill Voss stole second.

Veteran southpaws Dick Ellsworth and Juan Pizaro, a couple of National League castoffs, combined for a four-hitter as Boston blanked Oakland. Ellsworth worked six innings, allowing all four hits, walking five, throwing three wild pitches and hitting a batter.

The Yankees not only lost a game to Washington but two pitchers and their manager, as well. Starter Al Downing left after one inning with a pain in his elbow and reliever Bill Monbouquette, the eventual loser, pulled a groin muscle in the fifth.

Monbouquette was the cause of Manager Ralph Houk's ejection when he laid down a squeeze bunt that apparently gave the Yanks a 2-1 lead. But umpire Jerry Neudecker ruled that Monbouquette ran out of the baseline, called him out for interference and sent the runner back to third, where he was stranded.

The Senators broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth on Del Unser's bunt single, Cap Peterson's triple and Frank Howard's sacrifice fly. Camilo Pascual pitched a four-hitter.

Mantle Named All-Star

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Aging Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees will take his usual place with the American League All-Stars. But such super stars as Al Kaline and Frank Robinson will be missing in the annual classic with the National League July 9 in Houston.

Mantle, whose 529 homer rank him fourth in the all-time home run derby, was named to the All-Star team for the 16th year Monday as Manager Dick Williams completed his 25-player squad.

Williams, rewarded with the AL managerial berth for leading the Boston Red Sox to the 1967 pennant, went pretty much along with the players' voting in filling his bench.

The fourth, fifth and sixth biggest vote-getters in the outfield balloting were chosen. They were Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins, hot-hitting Ken Harrelson of the Red Sox and young Rick Monday of the Oakland Athletics.

Kaline, the Detrot Tigers' slugger sidelined with a broken arm, was not named to the All-Star team for the first time since 1954. Robinson, Baltimore's 1966 Triple Crown winner, has been plagued by injuries this season.

Mantle and Boog Powell of the Orioles were chosen as backup first baseman for starter Harmon Killebrew of the Twins. Dave Johnson of Baltimore was chosen as the No. 2 sceond baseman behind Rod Carew of Minnesota.

Other reserves chosen were third baseman Don Wert of Detroit, shortstop Bert Campaneris of Oakland and catchers Joe Azcue of Cleveland and Duane Josephson of the Chicago White Sox.

The league-leading Tigers will be represented by four players, Wert, catcher Bill Freehan, pitcher Denny McLain and outfielder Willie Horton.

The Twins, Red Sox, Orioles and Athletics each will have three representatives. The Yankees and White Sox have two apiece, with California and Washington only one each.

Other starters voted were third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, shortstop Jim Fregosi of the Angels, and outfielders Carl Yastrzemski of the Red Sox and Frank Howard of Washington.

The seven-man pitching staff includes McLain, Sam McDowell and Luis Tiant of Cleveland, Jose Santiago of Boston, Mel Stottlemyre of New York, Tommy John of Chicago and John "Blue Moon" Odom of Oakland.

This column does not mean I'm in a particularly poor frame of mind, it's just a list of irritations that we'd all be better off without:

Girls (and women) who wear hair curlers in public.

Television commercials.

Four-way stop signs.

Radio commercials.

Four-way red lights.

Tiny Tim.

Baseball announcers who never give the score.

People who ask for lots of pre-game publicity and then never turn in the results.

Baseball announcers who root too much for their team.

People who drive at 25 mph on the open highway.

Air conditioning that's too cold.

People who honk, especially when you're trying to sleep.

Unsigned letters.

Dogs that bark in the middle of the night.

Anonymous phone calls.

Girls (and women) who are too fat to wear shorts, but do any way.

People who tell me about something that they probably read in this column first and forgot where they read it.

Radio stations that cut off the end of a record to squeeze in another commercial.

Hamburgers on a cold bun.

Warts.

People who run red lights.

Plucked eyebrows.

Junk mail.

People who try to sell you something over the telephone.

People who call in scores only when their team wins.

Cardinal Hurler Wins Game 5-1

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

After Don Drysdale pitched a major league record six straight shutouts and 58 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings, everyone wondered what he could do for an encore.

He could have gotten the hit that halted Bob Gibson's march toward his records, but he didn't. He could have beaten Gibson when the two clashed Monday night, but he didn't.

Gibson, on the other hand, didn't reach the records, allowing a first-inning run on a wild pitch in St. Louis' 5-1 victory over Los Angeles.

"I won the game; I'm not disappointed at all," said Gibson, the Cardinal ace who had hurled five straight shutouts and amassed 47 innings of scoreless pitching.

Lou Johnson, the happy-go-lucky outfielder acquired last week from the Chicago Cub, blasted two homers and Sam McDowell fanned 11 Twins as Cleveland beat Minnesota.

McDowell yielded a leadoff double to Cesar Tovar, then pitched hitless ball until the eighth, when he needed help from Stan Williams after Tony Oliva's run-scoring single.

Buddy Bradford, a White Sox outfielder, had a two-homer night against Baltimore. He cracked his third of the season to ignite a four-run first inning after Luis Aparico reached on an error, and hit another in the fifth.

Aparicio also homered, his third, while Brooks Robinson and Curt Blefary connected for the Orioles. The White Sox capped the opening inning with a double steal on which Ken Berry swiped home while Bill Voss stole second.

Veteran southpaws Dick Ellsworth and Juan Pizaro, a couple of National League castoffs, combined for a four-hitter as Boston blanked Oakland. Ellsworth worked six innings, allowing all four hits, walking five, throwing three wild pitches and hitting a batter.

The Yankees not only lost a game to Washington but two pitchers and their manager, as well. Starter Al Downing left after one inning with a pain in his elbow and reliever Bill Monbouquette, the eventual loser, pulled a groin muscle in the fifth.

Monbouquette was the cause of Manager Ralph Houk's ejection when he laid down a squeeze bunt that apparently gave the Yanks a 2-1 lead. But umpire Jerry Neudecker ruled that Monbouquette ran out of the baseline, called him out for interference and sent the runner back to third, where he was stranded.

The Senators broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth on Del Unser's bunt single, Cap Peterson's triple and Frank Howard's sacrifice fly. Camilo Pascual pitched a four-hitter.

Mantle Named All-Star

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Aging Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees will take his usual place with the American League All-Stars. But such super stars as Al Kaline and Frank Robinson will be missing in the annual classic with the National League July 9 in Houston.

Mantle, whose 529 homer rank him fourth in the all-time home run derby, was named to the All-Star team for the 16th year Monday as Manager Dick Williams completed his 25-player squad.

Williams, rewarded with the AL managerial berth for leading the Boston Red Sox to the 1967 pennant, went pretty much along with the players' voting in filling his bench.

The fourth, fifth and sixth biggest vote-getters in the outfield balloting were chosen. They were Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins, hot-hitting Ken Harrelson of the Red Sox and young Rick Monday of the Oakland Athletics.

Kaline, the Detrot Tigers' slugger sidelined with a broken arm, was not named to the All-Star team for the first time since 1954. Robinson, Baltimore's 1966 Triple Crown winner, has been plagued by injuries this season.

Mantle and Boog Powell of the Orioles were chosen as backup first baseman for starter Harmon Killebrew of the Twins. Dave Johnson of Baltimore was chosen as the No. 2 sceond baseman behind Rod Carew of Minnesota.

Other reserves chosen were third baseman Don Wert of Detroit, shortstop Bert Campaneris of Oakland and catchers Joe Azcue of Cleveland and Duane Josephson of the Chicago White Sox.

The league-leading Tigers will be represented by four players, Wert, catcher Bill Freehan, pitcher Denny McLain and outfielder Willie Horton.

The Twins, Red Sox, Orioles and Athletics each will have three representatives. The Yankees and White Sox have two apiece, with California and Washington only one each.

Other starters voted were third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, shortstop Jim Fregosi of the Angels, and outfielders Carl Yastrzemski of the Red Sox and Frank Howard of Washington.

The seven-man pitching staff includes McLain, Sam McDoweil and Luis Tiant of Cleveland, Jose Santiago of Boston, Mel Stottlemyre of New York, Tommy John of Chicago and John "Blue Moon" Odom of Oakland.

NFL Exhibition Game Set For Mexico City

NEW YORK (AP) — Use of an experimental conversion rule, the first match on foreign soil in eight years and 23 interleague games highlight the 68-game preseason schedule of the National Football League and the American Football League.

The Philadelphia Eagles will take on the Detroit Lions Aug. 11 in the 105,000-seat Aztec Stadium in Mexico City. Only one other NFL game—between New York and Chicago in Toronto in 1960—has been played outside the United States.

The interleague matches will serve as an experiment for the proposed conversion rule. In place of the regular conversion kick, the teams will have an option of either running or passing from the two-yard line for one point after each touchdown.

Results will be studied to determine if the rule should be adopted for regular league games.

Six exhibitions will be televised nationally, including the Green-Bay-College All-Stars game at Chicago Aug. 3. ABC-TV will carry the Packers-All Stars, with CBS-TV handling the others, including the Mexico City game.

Other TV games will be Chicago vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Mon., Aug. 19; Green Bay at Dallas, Sat., Aug. 24; Minnesota at St. Louis, Sun., Sept. 1; and Baltimore at Dallas, Sat., Sept. 7.

All 10 AFL teams, including new entry Cincinnati, will play at least one NFL foe.

Huge Squad Invited To Olympic Training

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A huge squad of 193 has been invited to the United States men's Olympic Track and Field high altitude training camp as the threat of a boycott by Negro athletes continues.

The Olympic Track and Field Committee announced its selections Monday, the same day that boycott architect Harry Edwards told newsmen in San Francisco that plans had been approved but refused to reveal what they were.

In announcing the squad, the committee named as many as 10 athletes to some events. Officially, the committee said this was to insure sufficient competition at South Lake Tahoe during the training.

Some, however, saw the big squad as a method of having enough white athletes in training in the event a boycott dramatizing racial unrest becomes a reality. For instance, all enght finalists in the 100-meter dash of the Olympic trials on Saturday were Negroes. Added to the squad were two Caucasians, Jerry Bright of Arizona State and Larry Questad, former NCAA champion from Stanford.

Ace hurdler Earl McCullouch of Southern California and distance star Gerry Lindgren of Washington State were given new leases on Olympic life after faltering in the trials.

Huge Squad Invited To Olympic Training

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A huge squad of 193 has been invited to the United States men's Olympic Track and Field high altitude training camp as the threat of a boycott by Negro athletes continues.

The Olympic Track and Field Committee announced its selections Monday, the same day that boycott architect Harry Edwards told newsmen in San Francisco that plans had been approved but refused to reveal what they were.

In announcing the squad, the committee named as many as 10 athletes to some events. Officially, the committee said this was to insure sufficient competition at South Lake Tahoe during the training.

Some, however, saw the big squad as a method of having enough white athletes in training in the event a boycott dramatizing racial unrest becomes a reality. For instance, all enght finalists in the 100-meter dash of the Olympic trials on Saturday were Negroes. Added to the squad were two Caucasians, Jerry Bright of Arizona State and Larry Questad, former NCAA champion from Stanford.

Ace hurdler Earl McCullouch of Southern California and distance star Gerry Lindgren of Washington State were given new leases on Olympic life after faltering in the trials.

NFL Exhibition Game Set For Mexico City

NEW YORK (AP) — Use of an experimental conversion rule, the first match on foreign soil in eight years and 23 interleague games highlight the 68-game preseason schedule of the National Football League and the American Football League.

The Philadelphia Eagles will take on the Detroit Lions Aug. 11 in the 105,000-seat Aztec Stadium in Mexico City. Only one other NFL game—between New York and Chicago in Toronto in 1960—has been played outside the United States.

The interleague matches will serve as an experiment for the proposed conversion rule. In place of the regular conversion kick, the teams will have an option of either running or passing from the two-yard line for one point after each touchdown.

Results will be studied to determine if the rule should be adopted for regular league games.

Six exhibitions will be televised nationally, including the Green-Bay-College All-Stars game at Chicago Aug. 3. ABC-TV will carry the Packers-All Stars, with CBS-TV handling the others, including the Mexico City game.

Other TV games will be Chicago vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Mon., Aug. 19; Green Bay at Dallas, Sat., Aug. 24; Minnesota at St. Louis, Sun., Sept. 1; and Baltimore at Dallas, Sat., Sept. 7.

All 10 AFL teams, including new entry Cincinnati, will play at least one NFL foe.

Tri-State, Potters Bank Win Games

First National was beaten again in minor league play last night, with Tri-State turning the trick 11-8.

Ptoters Bank edged Pusateri's in the other game.

Tim Barton was the winner for Tri-State, fanning 12. Kim Wakefield had a double and homer and Jerry Barton and John McAvoy a double and single each. Dave Wolf and Mike Yanni doubled for the losers. Jim Davis took the loss.

1ST NATIONAL	105 110— 8
TRI-STATE	430 40x—11

Greg Thompson was the winner and Mike Petkovich the loser in the Potters Bank-Pusateri pitching battle. Thompson allowed only two hits and doubled in both runs.

(2) No illumination involving movement or causing the illusion of movement by reason of the lighting arrangement or other devices shall be permitted.

(3) Christmas display lighting shall not be restricted by the foregoing regulations, except that such lighting shall in no way interfere with traffic signs, lights, or signals.

(g) Subdivision Signs. Upon application to the Zoning Inspector, a permit may be issued as a special exception to the terms of this Zoning Ordinance allowing a land sales sign, provided that:

(1) The sign shall not be illuminated.

(2) The sign shall advertise the sale or development of a recorded lot subdivision.

(3) The sign shall be erected only upon the property for sale or being developed.

(4) The sign shall not be in excess of forty square feet.

(5) Not more than one such sign shall be placed along one road frontage of any property in single and separate ownership and not more than two such signs may be permitted in any single development.

In 1776, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia passed a resolution that became the Declaration of Independence when it was signed two days later.

In 1912, Woodrow Wilson was nominated for president by the Democratic National Convention in Baltimore.

In 1937, Amelia Earhart and her co-pilot vanished over the Pacific on a round-the-world flight.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCULPTURE

QUESTION: Why didn't ancient sculptors put pupils in the eyes of their statues?

ANSWER: In making sculpture, you are dealing with shapes rather than markings. You can't model an iris just as you can't model a leopard's spots. Many of the early sculptors, like the one who cut the bas-relief of the Assyrian king's head in (1), simply carved the eye shape and left the rest out. Ancient sculptors, however, sometimes experimented with painting in the iris and pupil — and a lady's makeup as well, as in the famous and remarkably successful portrait head of queen Nefertiti of Egypt (2). When the Greeks started making their marvelous statues, they were thinking of other things than eye expression. For the first time, in sculpture, they had discovered the beautiful rhythm of the figure, as in (3). Here, eye details were not so important. So the Greeks usually carved round eyeballs and left the iris and pupil details out. At times they would get the effect of the iris and the pupil by making a round, deep hole which would look dark. This is an effect often used by modern sculptors as in the cast bronze head (4). The sculptor gouged out dark eye holes while the head was in the clay stage.

(Russell Draheim of Springfield, Mo., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
